FOOD DICTATORSHIP IS ESTABLISHED FOR THE GERMAN EMPIRE

SWEEPING POWERS CONFERRED ON NEW OFFICIAL WHO CAN TAKE ALL FOODS AND FODDER AND FIX PRICES ON RATIONS IF NECESSITY SHOULD ARISE.

SHORTAGE IN MEATS ADMITTED

Short Harvest of 1915 Declared Responsible for Condition and Not Blockade—Plenty of Breadstuffs and Enough Potatoes on Hand—Federal States Surrender Great Authority.

By the Associated Press.

Berlin, May 23.—"The adequate nourishment of our population is fully assured and will not be rendered doubtful by any blockade regulations of enemy states, no matter how unscrupulous they may be and no matter how long the war may last," says the semi-official North German Gazette today in an announcement of the creation of a food dictatorship with sweeping powers.

"However, the short harvest of 1915, together with reduced imports, have resulted in a food scarcity in some directions which makes itself acutely felt and efforts to better conditions have been hindered by the fact that each federal state has been able to make independent regulations. This will now be corrected by a centralization of power."

Probably never before have such sweeping powers been concentrated as are now granted Herr Von Battocki, the new food dictator. Various counsellors will be assigned to him, representing industry, trade, the military, agriculture and the consumers and representatives of the federal states and of associations connected with the war also will aid him. Final decision on all questions, however, rest solely in Herr Von Battocki's hands.

The dictator will be able to take all foods and fodder and establish prices on rations, if necessary. The only express limitation of the dictator's powers is contained in the provision that the new department's measures will take into consideration orders of the military commanders. The date on which the new order will become effective is to be announced shortly.

The surrender by the federal states of their prerogatives indicates a realization that existing conditions demand such a surrender. Adequate breadstuffs are on hand and it is even likely that the bread and flour rations for physical workers soon will be increased. Enough potatoes also are available to carry the country through till the early crop is harvested, although it is possible that the allowance must be somewhat reduced. It cannot be denied, however, that Germany is likely to approach near to a condition of a vegetarian Eden in the coming months.

The Lokal Anzeiger sums up the situation as follows:

"It is no longer a secret that supplies are short, not so much as a result of the friendly efforts of our enemies, but as the result of last year's poor harvest. It is true that we do not need to worry about bread. We shall come through with potatoes. But our meat and fat supplies, as is well known, leave much to be desired.

"In no circumstances must we touch milch cows or we shall endanger the milk supply of our children. Meat rations will become very small, without distintcion in the whole German empire."

MAYOR OF NEW YORK TRIES TO JUSTIFY PHONE WIRE TAPPING

CHARGE MADE THAT COMBINATION OF PERSONS IS WORKING AGAINST MUNICIPAL ADMINISTRATION IN MANY WAYS—RECORD OF 100 CONVERSATIONS.

TWO CITY OFFICIALS INDICTED

Hearing Ends in Stormy Fashion When Mayor Invites Public to Remain and Investigating Committee Goes Into Executive Session, Leaving Him Still Talking From Witness Chair.

By the Associated Press.

New York, May 23.—Sensational charges by Mayor John Purroy Mitchel against some of his "co-religionists" in attempted justification of telephone wire tapping during the investigation conducted by a committee appointed by Governor Whitman into the affairs of Roman Catholic charitable institutions in this city were made late today before the legislative committee headed by State Senator G. F. Thompson.

The mayor's allegations were prompted by the indictment in Kings county earlier in the day of John A. Kingsbury, city commissioner of charities, and William H. Hotchkiss, special counsel for the charities department, for their part in the "tapping of telephone wires." The chief witnesses against the mayor were Catholic priests.

Mayor Mitchel and Police Commissioner Woods were witnesses before the grand jury, but were not indicted.

Mayor Mitchel became a witness with the purpose of making public telephone conversations overheard by the police, which he declared justified the tapping. His determination to take the public into his confidence and not appear before the committee privately brought him into direct acrimonious conflict with Chairman Thompson. Finally, to circumvent the witness who refused to be silenced, the chairman ordered his colleagues in executive session. The committee retired with the mayor still talking in the witness chair.

The meetings of the commission are bing held in the rooms of the sinking fund commission in the municipal building. The mayor is chairman of this commission. Senator Thompson ordered the room cleared, but the mayor invited reporters and others present to remain as his guests. The senator pounded the table with his gavel while Mr. Mitchel continued talking in a high-pitched voice.

The mayor intimated he would take the subject before the proper authorities "with a view to the prosecution" on four charges of persons he declared were involved in a conspiracy to defraud the charities department of the city.

When the mayor took the witness chair he said he would not leave it until he had "torn things wide open."

He declared he had in his hands records of approximately 100 conversations taken down by the police over a tapped wire, which indicated that there "is a combination of persons who have been working:

"First, to revoke the authority of the strong community appealing to the governor.

"Second, to discredit committee.

"Third, to attack and discredit Mr. Hotchkiss.

"Fourth, to spirit people away from the jurisdiction.

"Fifth, to coach witnesses to 'trump up' testimony."

SENATE REFUSES RECONSIDERATION ON RUBLEE VOTE

ADMINISTRATION LEADERS ARE ONLY ABLE TO MUSTER 38 VOTES TO SAME NUMBER OPPOSED TO CONFIRMING FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION APPOINTEE.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

Motion to reconsider uniform vote on confirmation of George Rublee as member of federal trade commission was lost.

Recessed at 5:45 p. m. to 11 a. m. Wednesday.

House.

Resumed consideration of the district appropriation bill.

Adjourned at 5:50 p. m. to 11 a. m. Wednesday.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—Administration efforts to have the senate reconsider its refusal to confirm the nomination of George Rublee of New Hampshire, as a member of the federal trade commission, failed late today by a tie vote of 38 to 38.

This ends the fight to keep Mr. Rublee on the commission where he has been serving for fifteen months.

He probably will continue in office under President Wilson's recess appointment until near the end of this session of congress, although he can draw no salary for either past or future service.

Senatorial courtesy blocked confirmation of the nomination. The nominee's ability or integrity were not questioned but Senator Gallinger, the republican leader, opposed him on the ground that he had been personally obnoxious in opposing him for reelection.

Today's action on a motion by senator Hollis to reconsider the vote by which the senate last week rejected the nomination, 42 to 36.

TEN DEMOCRATS VOTE AGAINST RUBLEE.

Thirty-three democratic and five republican senators voted for the reconsideration and twenty-eight republicans and ten democratic senators voted against it.

Unusual parliamentary situations developed before the vote was taken, among them being the announcement of an informal pairing agreement between Vice President Marshall, who was absent, with Senator Reed of Missouri, who voted against Rublee's confirmation last week.

Vice president Marshall was paired with Senator Reed, Burleigh with Robinson, Cummins with Vardaman, McCumber with Gore and James with Shields.

THREE SENATORS DECLINE TO VOTE.

Senators Chamberlain, Smith of South Carolina, and Smith of Maryland, democrats, did not vote. Chamberlain and Smith of South Carolina had voted against confirmation last week, but Smith of Maryland was absent on both occasions.

While the roll call was under way, Senator Jones of Washington, who was paired with Senator Shields of Tennessee, announced that he had been informed that the Tennessee senator had he been present would have followed the majority.

His vote was then recorded. When Senator Weeks of Massachusetts was called he transferred his pair witn Senator James of Kentucky to the absent Senator Shields and was also recorded in the negative.

Senator Shields would have voted for the motion had he been present.

To Reorganize Militia.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—Secretary Baker began an exhaustive study today of the Hay-Chamberlain army bill with a view to undertaking the authorized reorganization of the regular army and national guard as soon as the measure is signed by the president.

Reorganization of the militia will be dealt with first. Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the senate military committee, conferred with Mr. Baker late today regarding administrative features of the new legislation. The senator said he planned to call up before the military committee Friday his bill for universal military service.

"Every citizen is under obligation to serve for the defense of his country," he said.

He added, however, that he was not in favor of a system which would compel every citizen to become a seasoned soldier and intimated his belief that compulsory service was unnecessary at this time since the training of citizens had been inaugurated on so broad a scale in schools and army camps.

New York's 1915 exports prepared at the department of commerce today show a total of $1,194,000,000 and imports of $931,000,000.

London't imports were large at $1,232,000,000, but her exports amounted to only $696,000,000.

IF BRYAN WILL RUN PROHIBITIONISTS WILL NOMINATE HIM

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, May 23.—If he will consent to make the race, William J. Bryan may be selected as the candidate for president by the prohibition party. Recent statements of Mr. Bryan before the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at Saratoga Springs, in which he was quoted as declaring that he had about reached the point where he could no longer follow a political party which refused to endorse national prohibition, was discussed by prohibition leaders here today.

They expressed the belief that if the democratic national convention at St. Louis declined to adopt a national prohibition plank, Mr. Bryan might consent to become the candidate of the prohibition party for president.

Other candidates for president being considered by the party leaders are former Governor William Sulzer of New York, former Governor Eugene Foss of Massachusetts, former Governor J. Frank Hanly of Indiana, General Nelson A. Miles of Washington, D. C., and Richmond Pearson Hobson of Alabama.

The convention this year will consist of 1254 delegates and an equal number of alternates.

Something New, Says Bryan.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—Former Secretary Bryan said he had never heard of the possibility of his being nominated for president on the prohibition ticket. He declined to treat the matter seriously.

Note on Mails May Be Sent Forward to England Today

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—A completed draft of the way note to Great Britain protesting against interference with neutral mails was sent to the state department today by President Wilson for transmission to London. It probably will go forward tomorrow if Secretary Lansing, who has been ill for several days, returns to his desk.

The secretary had planned to sign the note at his home so that it might be cabled tonight, but decided late this afternoon to wait until tomorrow.

For Teddy, of Course.

By the Associated Press.

Topeka, Kan., May 23.—The name of Theodore Roosevelt was the keynote of the progressive convention here today and at every mention of it the delegates broke into cheers. Thirty delegates were elected to the national convention with thirteen votes divided among their number.

TEXAS BULL MOOSE ENDORSE ROOSEVELT IN STRONG TERMS

CONVENTION VERY ENTHUSIASTIC

Cheers Greet Every Mention of Leader's Name and Harmony Reigns. Every Congressional District Represented Except Ninth and Tenth. Present Administration Scored.

Opening with cheers and closing with cheers, bubbling over with enthusiasm from start to finish, throwing a somersault almost literally every time the magic name of Theodore Roosevelt was mentioned, and indorsing Roosevelt for president in very strong terms, yet leaving the way open for a "trade" if driven into a corner by the republicans at Chicago in June, the progressive state convention here yesterday, met, resoluted, selected delegates to Chicago for the national progressive convention, named other delegations and the presidential electors wanted, then adjourned with beaming faces to felicitate each other on the "plum bully" selections made and the harmony which prevailed.

The democratic president and policies were shot full of holes by almost every speaker, and the republican party was also lacerated sorely by the speakers, who intimated that if there is any compromise between the republicans and the progressives the overtures and the "boot" must come from the republicans before any basis of agreement and concert of action can be secured.

About one hundred were present at the convention, and they were representative looking citizens of many different communities. All wore Roosevelt badges and donned Roosevelt smiles at every mention of his name.

A few negroes were present, but took no active part in the proceedings.

The gavel was rapped shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning, in the blue room of the city hall, by Chairman J. M. McCormick of Dallas, who headed the executive committee of the progressive party in Texas and was therefore the one charged with the duty of opening the convention. The temporary secretary of the convention was G. E. Kepple of Houston and the sergeant-at-arms E. M. Mulkey of Sherman.

A striking and appropriate prayer was offered by Rev. J. J. Grier, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, who expressed thanks for the interest shown by men in matters of state and of moment to the world, for freedom of speech and liberty of action, asking that the tricksters be restrained from getting control of any body which was patriotic, and making a special plea for the bringing in of men and conditions which would mean the perpetuation of peace and harmony.

PROGRESSIVES HOLD VANTAGE POINT NOW.

In calling the gathering to order, Chairman McCormick delivered a keynote address, stating that it meant something to be a progressive in 1916; in fact, this year was as remarkable and as potent in possibilities as had been 1912, but the opposition of the democratic party hoped that this time the pendulum would swing their way. The democrats were at present in control at Washington, and in the eyes of the world they represented America, as to whether the world looked with favor on the democratic administration the speaker did not know, but he thought it had been a weak and helpless administration of national affairs. The speaker said further:

"The progressives will try at Chicago in June, when they meet at the same time and place the republicans meet, to consolidate the opposition to the democratic party, to try and secure a homogeneous opposition to that party, and the effort will be made in good faith, but the progressives cannot solidify the opposition into a forceful, effective whole; they can only do their part, and the republicans will have to make the overtures. Who ought to be the leading partner in the consolidation, if there is one. Who has the assets? I say it is the progressives, and matters must come our way before we will agree to unify."

The speaker then used figures showing that in 1912 Theodore Roosevelt had secured eighty-eight electoral votes where William H. Taft had secured eight, the one leading the progressive forces and the other the republicans. A prediction was hazarded that the progressives would win this time, with or without the aid of the republicans, especially if Theodore Roosevelt led the hosts of the progressives in his matchless and statesmanlike manner.

The progressives, said the speaker, had reasons for leaving the ranks of the republicans, and these reasons must be removed before there could be unification and joint action. No man had yet been mentioned as a presidential possibility who could in any sense compare with Theodore Roosevelt; with Roosevelt as a leader the progressives could beat the republicans and democrats both. He closed with the prediction that the progressives and republicans will nominate Theodore Roosevelt, basing their action on patriotism, Americanism and common sense, and would then "sweep the country like a whirlwind." A great demonstration followed his ringing ad-

HOT FIGHT IN SIGHT OVER SAN ANTONIO PLATFORM

Resolutions Committee Will Report Against Woman's Suffrage and Nation-wide Prohibition Which Will Meet With Bitter Opposition.

WILSON. MARSHALL, FERGUSON ENDORSED

Pro Candidate Slated for Permanent Chairman—Antis Claim Love Is Beaten, His Friends That He Will Win. Temporary Organization Effected Without Struggle.

Special to the Morning News.

San Antonio, Texas, May 23.—The platform committee of the state democratic convention, which opened here today, adopted resolutions indorsing the administration of President Woodrow Wilson and approving the acts of consructive legislation passed during the four years he has been in office. The resolutions instruct the delegates to vote for Wilson and Marshall for second terms.

Resolutions also were adopted indorsing the administration of Gov. James E. Ferguson. Ferguson was commended for his hearty co-operation with the president in dealing with the Mexican question.

Woman suffrage and liquor legislation through an amendment to the federal constitution was condemned.

WILL BRING IN MINORITY REPORT.

Cullen Thomas will bring in a minority report recommending that woman suffrage and nationwide prohibition be not taken to the national convention.

The resolution indorsing President Wilson was half-hearted when brought in by the subcommittee of which Joseph W. Bailey was chairman. Congressman Robert L. Henry said he wanted it understood that the indorsement of President Wilson should be not only for his administration, but for legislative acts also. One member of the subcommittee replied that that was the import of the resolutions. Bailey said that he did not so intend the resolution. He said that while he was willing to give general indorsement to President Wilson's administration, he was unwilling to approve all acts of legislation. He was especially opposed to the currency bill, which, he said, gave the banks right to control the money of the people. He said this had been opposed by Jefferson, Jackson and all other democrats of importance.

Cullen Thomas declared the resolution was half-hearted. He insisted that the Texas democrats should give hearty co-operation not only to Wilson's administration, but also to his legislative acts and policies which he declared had been admirable in every way. He said he believed the striking out of the clause referrin gto approval of Wilson's legislative acts in the original draft of the document was done to take a slap at the president rather than to aid him.

The full committee voted the clause approving the legislative acts of the president into the resolution.

The antis claim the platform resolutions as adopted by the full committee will be approved by the convention. The pros intend to fight the resolutions condemning woman suffrage and nationwide prohibition. Cullen Thomas will bring in his minority report with the object of eliminating any reference to suffrage or prohibition. He also would strike out any reference to the quotation from President Wilson's writings several years ago in which he enunciated the doctrine of local option.

BIG FIGHT TO BE ON PERMANENT CHAIRMAN.

The committee on permanent organization selected Albert B. Watkins of Henderson for chairman. Watkins is the pros' choice for chairman. The antis will bring in a minority report recommending W. C. Wear of Hillsboro for chairman. There will be a big fight on the election of chairman. The pros contend they will elect Watkins, but the antis are as confident they will name Wear. The resolutions adopted by the platform committee follow:

"Resolved, by the democrats of Texas in convention assembled, That we cordially indorse the administration of Woodrow Wilson and expressly give our approval to the constructive acts of legislation passed during the four years in which he has been the chief executive.

"And the delegates to the St. Louis democratic convention are hereby instructed to vote for his renomination as president of these United States.

"We indorse the candidacy of Thomas R. Marshall for vice president. We believe him to be a fit running mate for Woodrow Wilson in the ensuing presidential campaign, and we hereby instruct our delegates to the national convention to vote for his renomination.

"Resolution No. 2.—We indorse the administration of Gov. James E. Ferguson and commend him for his fidelity to the pledges he made to the people and the efforts he has put forth for the industrial development of the state.

"We especially commend him for his wise, timely and courageous co-operation with the president of the United States in dealing with the vexatious problems growing out of the Mexican situation.

"Resolution No. 3—Adhering to the fundamental democratic principle that every state has the right to determine the qualifications of its own voters, we declare our unalterable opposition to female suffrage through an amendment to the federal constitution.

"Resolution No. 4—The democratic party has steadfastly maintained that every state possesses the power to regulate and control its own police affairs, and in accordance with that view we declare our unalterable opposition to any amendment to the federal constitution withdrawing from the states of the union the right to determine each for itself whether the manufacture and sale of liquor shall be permitted or prohibited within its jurisdiction. We agree with President Wilson when he said that 'every self-governing community which constitutes a social unit should have the right to control the matter of the regulation or the withholding of licenses.'

"J. W. BAILEY,
"JAS. E. FERGUSON,
"W. M. FLY,
"LOUIS J. WORTHAM,
"J. M. MATHIS,
"J. M. ALLERDICE,
"D. E. DECKER."

ANTIS INSIST LOVE IS BEATEN.

The antis will fight for the adoption of the resolutions by the convention. Bailey is expected to lead the fight for the antis. Thos. H. Ball will be on the floor, leader for the pros, and he will be assisted by Cullen Thomas in seeking to have the minority report adopted.

Although the pros still contend they will elect Tom B. Love national committeeman, the antis insist he is beaten. The antis admit that Love had the job cinched when the convention opened, but claim that he is losing ground rapidly. Failure to deflect the Bexar county delegation from the antis in favor of Love, the liquor people assert, has been death blow to Love.

Love and his friends are as confident as ever that they have enough votes to name the Dallas banker committeeman. The convention will open at 10 o'clock tomorrow. It seems certain that the fight between the pros and the antis will be one of the bitterest in years.

ONLY SHORT SESSION HELD.

Proceedings in the state democratic convention, which opened at 12:15 o'clock today, were brought to a sudden halt after a 55-minute session, after the permanent committees were announced and approved. The convention adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

On account of the number of important questions before the convention, adjournment was taken at an early hour in order to allow the various committees to hold conferences this afternoon to report tomorrow.

The outstanding features of today's short session were Chairman Wear's declaration that there would be no outside influences, particularly organizations, allowed to work during the convention, and the apparent defeat in the first skirmish of the prohibitionists by the appointment of opponents of Thomas B. Love as national com-

LONE STAR STATE REPUBLICANS GIVE NO INSTRUCTIONS

By the Associated Press.

Fort Worth, May 23.—Texas will send forty uninstructed delegates to the republican convention at Chicago, despite the ruling of the national executive committee limiting the representation to twenty-six. The state convention closed tonight with the election of H. F. MacGregor of Houston as national committeeman, and the naming of the forty delegates and alternates.

A bolt by disgruntled delegations from three districts materialized late tonight and eight delegates were named by the secessionists, mostly negroes.

A protective tariff and attacks upon the Wilson administration served as the keynote of McGregor's opening address.

FLOOD COMMITTEE STARTS ON TRIP UP BRAZOS RIVER

By the Associated Press.

Houston, Texas, May 23.—The congressional flood control committee, beginning today its 450-mile trip through Texas overflow districts, was at Freeport at noon, at the mouth of the Brazos, a stream whose mud-red waters have swept away in five years crops worth millions. Seven of the committee found it impossible to make the trip. The committee was met in Houston last night by the executive committee of the Brazos River and Valley Improvement association. Nearly 100 people are in the party.

The committee was interested in learning that at one time the Brazos river was known as the Colorado, and the Colorado as the Brazos.

Waco Guardsmen to Entrain For Border Duty Tomorrow

(By Staff Correspondent.)

San Benito, Texas, May 23.—The Second regiment of the Texas infantry will entrain Thursday morning for active duty of patrol, according to announcement coming from headquarters today. Companies K and G of Waco, company L of Brenham, company M of Hillsboro, under the command of Major Jackson of Hillsboro, will go to San Benito. Companies A, B, C and D, under command of Major Weatherred of Waco, will probably go to Mercedes. Companies E, F, H and I, under Major Roberts, probably will go to Harlingen.

Complete equipment for the Second regiment was received today, which includes new rifles and complete field equipment.

Company K held physical examination today with very little loss in men. That for company G was held yesterday. Both companies are completely equipped and the men are anxious for new duties.

Despite Bitter Assaults the French Hold Fort Douaumont

By the Associated Press.

The Germans have replied to the French bombardments with assault after assault and the deadly combat northeast and northwest of Verdun is still in progress.

Heavy masses of German troops have been thrown against the picked French troops whose successful attacks won for them the greater portions of Fort Douaumont and considerable German territory adjacent to the fort of high strategic value.

These newly acquired positions the French have tenaciously held. The fighting at this point is characterized by Paris as "a murderous struggle."

Although they were hard held to the northeast the Germans would not be denied at Le Mort Homme and after having been mowed down by the French artillery and machine guns with sanguinary losses in several attacks finally gained a footing in trenches west of this much-fought-for position. Their tenure of the trenches was short-lived, however, for the French in a counter-attack immediately drove them out.

Rome admits that between the Astico and Brenta rivers and in the Sugana valley the Italians have fallen back on their main line defense.

While Rome asserts that the operations were carried out in perfect order after the Italians had repulsed Austrian attacks against the advanced line, Vienna says in the retreat from Bordo the Italians were forced across the border by the Austrians.

While along the Russian front the usual bombardments have continued almost exclusively in the river region, the Russians in an infantry attack drove the Germans across the Voseluhu river and destroyed their trenches.

In the coast region of Turkey, southwest of Trebizond, the Russians have repulsed attempts by the Turks to assume the offensive and also have dislodged the Ottoman forces from positions on one of the slopes of the Taures mountains. In their advance on Mosul with Mesopotamia their objective the Russians have occupied Serbechst.

The British house of commons has passed a vote of credit amounting to about $1,500,000.

New York, May 23.—Sensational charges by Mayor John Purroy Mitchel against some of his "co-religionists" in attempted justification of telephone wire tapping during the investigation conducted by a committee appointed by Governor Whitman into the affairs of Roman Catholic charitable institutions in this city were made late today before the legislative committee headed by State Senator G. Resumed consideration of the district appropriation bill.

Adjourned at 5:50 p. m. to 11 a. m. Wednesday.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—Administration efforts to have the senate reconsider its refusal to confirm the nomination of George Rublee of New Hampshire, as a member of the federal trade commission, failed late today by a tie vote of 38 to 38.

This ends the fight to keep Mr. Rublee on the commission where he has been serving for fifteen months.

He probably will continue in office under President Wilson's recess appointment until near the end of this session of congress, although he can draw no salary for either past or future service.

Senatorial courtesy blocked confirmation of the nomination. The nominee's ability or integrity were not questioned but Senator Gallinger, the republican leader, opposed him on the ground that he had been personally obnoxious in opposing him for reelection.

Today's action on a motion by senator Hollis to reconsider the vote by which the senate last week rejected the nomination, 42 to 36.

TEN DEMOCRATS VOTE AGAINST RUBLEE.

Thirty-three democratic and five republican senators voted for the reconsideration and twenty-eight republicans and ten democratic senators voted against it.

Unusual parliamentary situations developed before the vote was taken, among them being the announcement of an informal pairing agreement between Vice President Marshall, who was absent, with Senator Reed of Missouri, who voted against Rublee's confirmation last week.

Vice president Marshall was paired with Senator Reed, Burleigh with Robinson, Cummins with Vardaman, McCumber with Gore and James with Shields.

THREE SENATORS DECLINE TO VOTE.

Senators Chamberlain, Smith of South Carolina, and Smith of Maryland, democrats, did not vote. Chamberlain and Smith of South Carolina had voted against confirmation last week, but Smith of Maryland was absent on both occasions.

While the roll call was under way, Senator Jones of Washington, who was paired with Senator Shields of Tennessee, announced that he had been informed that the Tennessee senator had he been present would have followed the majority.

His vote was then recorded. When Senator Weeks of Massachusetts was called he transferred his pair with Senator James of Kentucky to the absent Senator Shields and was also recorded in the negative.

Senator Shields would have voted for the motion had he been present.

To Reorganize Militia.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—Secretary Baker began an exhaustive study today of the Hay-Chamberlain army bill with a view to undertaking the authorized reorganization of the regular army and national guard as soon as the measure is signed by the president.

Reorganization of the militia will be dealt with first. Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the senate military committee, conferred with Mr. Baker late today regarding administrative features of the new legislation. The senator said he planned to call up before the military committee Friday his bill for universal military service.

"Every citizen is under obligation to serve for the defense of his country," he said.

He added, however, that he was not in favor of a system which would compel every citizen to become a seasoned soldier and intimated his belief that compulsory service was unnecessary at this time since the training of citizens had been inaugurated on so broad a scale in schools and army camps.

IF BRYAN WILL RUN PROHIBITIONISTS WILL NOMINATE HIM

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, May 23.—If he will consent to make the race, William J. Bryan may be selected as the candidate for president by the prohibition party. Recent statements of Mr. Bryan before the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at Saratoga Springs, in which he was quoted as declaring that he had about reached the point where he could no longer follow a political party which refused to endorse national prohibition, was discussed by prohibition leaders here today.

They expressed the belief that if the democratic national convention at St. Louis declined to adopt a national prohibition plank, Mr. Bryan might consent to become the candidate of the prohibition party for president.

Other candidates for president being considered by the party leaders are former Governor William Sulzer of New York, former Governor Eugene Foss of Massachusetts, former Governor J. Frank Hanly of Indiana, General Nelson A. Miles of Washington, D. C., and Richmond Pearson Hobson of Alabama.

The convention this year will consist of 1254 delegates and an equal number of alternates.

Something New, Says Bryan.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—Former Secretary Bryan said he had never heard of the possibility of his being nominated for president on the prohibition ticket. He declined to treat the matter seriously.

Note on Mails May Be Sent Forward to England Today

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—A completed draft of the way note to Great Britain protesting against interference with neutral mails was sent to the state department today by President Wilson for transmission to London. It probably will go forward tomorrow if Secretary Lansing, who has been ill for several days, returns to his desk.

The secretary had planned to sign the note at his home so that it might be cabled tonight, but decided late this afternoon to wait until tomorrow.

For Teddy, of Course.

By the Associated Press.

Topeka, Kan., May 23.—The name of Theodore Roosevelt was the keynote of the progressive convention here today and at every mention of it the delegates broke into cheers. Thirty delegates were elected to the national convention with thirteen votes divided among their number.

CONVENTION VERY ENTHUSIASTIC

Cheers Greet Every Mention of Leader's Name and Harmony Reigns. Every Congressional District Represented Except Ninth and Tenth. Present Administration Scored.

Opening with cheers and closing with cheers, bubbling over with enthusiasm from start to finish, throwing a somersault almost literally every time the magic name of Theodore Roosevelt was mentioned, and indorsing Roosevelt for president in very strong terms, yet leaving the way open for a "trade" if driven into a corner by the republicans at Chicago in June, the progressive state convention here yesterday, met, resoluted, selected delegates to Chicago for the national progressive convention, named other delegations and the presidential electors wanted, then adjourned with beaming faces to felicitate each other on the "plum bully" selections made and the harmony which prevailed.

The democratic president and policies were shot full of holes by almost every speaker, and the republican party was also lacerated sorely by the speakers, who intimated that if there is any compromise between the republicans and the progressives the overtures and the "boot" must come from the republicans before any basis of agreement and concert of action can be secured.

About one hundred were present at the convention, and they were representative looking citizens of many different communities. All wore Roosevelt badges and donned Roosevelt smiles at every mention of his name.

A few negroes were present, but took no active part in the proceedings.

The gavel was rapped shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday morning, in the blue room of the city hall, by Chairman J. M. McCormick of Dallas, who headed the executive committee of the progressive party in Texas and was therefore the one charged with the duty of opening the convention. The temporary secretary of the convention was G. E. Kepple of Houston and the sergeant-at-arms E. M. Mulkey of Sherman.

A striking and appropriate prayer was offered by Rev. J. J. Gries, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, who expressed thanks for the interest shown by men in matters of state and of moment to the world, for freedom of speech and liberty of action, asking that the tricksters be restrained from getting control of any body which was patriotic, and making a special plea for the bringing in of men and conditions which would mean the perpetuation of peace and harmony.

PROGRESSIVES HOLD VANTAGE POINT NOW.

In calling the gathering to order, Chairman McCormick delivered a keynote address, stating that it meant something to be a progressive in 1916; in fact, this year was as remarkable and as potent in possibilities as had been 1912, but the opposition of the democratic party hoped that this time the pendulum would swing their way. The democrats were at present in control at Washington, and in the eyes of the world they represented America, as to whether the world looked with favor on the democratic administration the speaker did not know, but he thought it had been a weak and helpless administration of national affairs. The speaker said further:

"The progressives will try at Chicago in June, when they meet at the same time and place the republicans meet, to consolidate the opposition to the democratic party, to try and secure a homogeneous opposition to that party, and the effort will be made in good faith, but the progressives cannot solidify the opposition into a forceful, effective whole; they can only do their part, and the republicans will have to make the overtures. Who ought to be the leading partner in the consolidation, if there is one. Who has the assets? I say it is the progressives, and matters must come our way before we will agree to unify."

The speaker then used figures showing that in 1912 Theodore Roosevelt had secured eighty-eight electoral votes where William H. Taft had secured eight, the one leading the progressive forces and the other the republicans. A prediction was hazarded that the progressives would win this time, with or without the aid of the republicans, especially if Theodore Roosevelt led the hosts of the progressives in his matchless and statesmanlike manner.

The progressives, said the speaker, had reasons for leaving the ranks of the republicans, and these reasons must be removed before there could be unification and joint action. No man had yet been mentioned as a presidential possibility who could in any sense compare with Theodore Roosevelt; with Roosevelt as a leader the progressives could beat the republicans and democrats both. He closed with the prediction that the progressives and republicans will nominate Theodore Roosevelt, basing their action on patriotism, Americanism and common sense, and would then "sweep the country like a whirlwind." A great demonstration followed his ringing ad-

HOT FIGHT IN SIGHT OVER SAN ANTONIO PLATFORM

Resolutions Committee Will Report Against Woman's Suffrage and Nation-wide Prohibition Which Will Meet With Bitter Opposition.

WILSON. MARSHALL, FERGUSON ENDORSED

Pro Candidate Slated for Permanent Chairman—Antis Claim Love Is Beaten, His Friends That He Will Win. Temporary Organization Effected Without Struggle.

Special to the Morning News.

San Antonio, Texas, May 23.—The platform committee of the state democratic convention, which opened here today, adopted resolutions indorsing the administration of President Woodrow Wilson and approving the acts of constructive legislation passed during the four years he has been in office. The resolutions instruct the delegates to vote for Wilson and Marshall for second terms.

Resolutions also were adopted indorsing the administration of Gov. James E. Ferguson. Ferguson was commended for his hearty co-operation with the president in dealing with the Mexican question.

Woman suffrage and liquor legislation through an amendment to the federal constitution was condemned.

WILL BRING IN MINORITY REPORT.

Cullen Thomas will bring in a minority report recommending that woman suffrage and nationwide prohibition be not taken to the national convention.

The resolution indorsing President Wilson was half-hearted when brought in by the subcommittee of which Joseph W. Bailey was chairman. Congressman Robert L. Henry said he wanted it understood that the indorsement of President Wilson should be not only for his administration, but for legislative acts also. One member of the subcommittee replied that that was the import of the resolutions. Bailey said that he did not so intend the resolution. He said that while he was willing to give general indorsement to President Wilson's administration, he was unwilling to approve all acts of legislation. He was especially opposed to the currency bill, which, he said, gave the banks right to control the money of the people. He said this had been opposed by Jefferson, Jackson and all other democrats of importance.

Cullen Thomas declared the resolution was half-hearted. He insisted that the Texas democrats should give hearty co-operation not only to Wilson's administration, but also to his legislative acts and policies which he declared had been admirable in every way. He said he believed the striking out of the clause referrin gto approval of Wilson's legislative acts in the original draft of the document was done to take a slap at the president rather than to aid him.

The full committee voted the clause approving the legislative acts of the president into the resolution.

The antis claim the platform resolutions as adopted by the full committee will be approved by the convention. The pros intend to fight the resolutions condemning woman suffrage and nationwide prohibition. Cullen Thomas will bring in his minority report with the object of eliminating any reference to suffrage or prohibition. He also would strike out any reference to the quotation from President Wilson's writings several years ago in which he enunciated the doctrine of local option.

BIG FIGHT TO BE ON PERMANENT CHAIRMAN.

The committee on permanent organization selected Albert B. Watkins of Henderson for chairman. Watkins is the pros' choice for chairman. The antis will bring in a minority report recommending W. C. Wear of Hillsboro for chairman. There will be a big fight on the election of chairman. The pros contend they will elect Watkins, but the antis are as confident they will name Wear. The resolutions adopted by the platform committee follow:

"Resolved, by the democrats of Texas in convention assembled, That we cordially indorse the administration of Woodrow Wilson and expressly give our approval to the constructive acts of legislation passed during the four years in which he has been the chief executive.

"And the delegates to the St. Louis democratic convention are hereby instructed to vote for his renomination as president of these United States.

"We indorse the candidacy of Thomas R. Marshall for vice president. We believe him to be a fit running mate for Woodrow Wilson in the ensuing presidential campaign, and we hereby instruct our delegates to the national convention to vote for his renomination.

"Resolution No. 2.—We indorse the administration of Gov. James E. Ferguson and commend him for his fidelity to the pledges he made to the people and the efforts he has put forth for the industrial development of the state.

"We especially commend him for his wise, timely and courageous co-operation with the president of the United States in dealing with the vexatious problems growing out of the Mexican situation.

"Resolution No. 3—Adhering to the fundamental democratic principle that every state has the right to determine the qualifications of its own voters, we declare our unalterable opposition to female suffrage through an amendment to the federal constitution.

"Resolution No. 4—The democratic party has steadfastly maintained that every state possesses the power to regulate and control its own police affairs, and in accordance with that view we declare our unalterable opposition to any amendment to the federal constitution withdrawing from the states of the union the right to determine each for itself whether the manufacture and sale of liquor shall be permitted or prohibited within its jurisdiction. We agree with President Wilson when he said that 'every self-governing community which constitutes a social unit should have the right to control the matter of the regulation or the withholding of licenses.'

"JAS. E. FERGUSON,
"W. M. FLY,
"LOUIS J. WORTHAM,
"J. M. MATHIS,

ANTIS INSIST LOVE IS BEATEN.

The antis will fight for the adoption of the resolutions by the convention. Bailey is expected to lead the fight for the antis. Thos. H. Ball will be on the floor, leader for the pros, and he will be assisted by Cullen Thomas in seeking to have the minority report adopted.

Although the pros still contend they will elect Tom B. Love national committeeman, the antis insist he is beaten. The antis admit that Love had the job cinched when the convention opened, but claim that he is losing ground rapidly. Failure to deflect the Bexar county delegation from the antis in favor of Love, the liquor people assert, has been death blow to Love.

Love and his friends are as confident as ever that they have enough votes to name the Dallas banker committeeman. The convention will open at 10 o'clock tomorrow. It seems certain that the fight between the pros and the antis will be one of the bitterest in years.

ONLY SHORT SESSION HELD.

Proceedings in the state democratic convention, which opened at 12:15 o'clock today, were brought to a sudden halt after a 55-minute session, after the permanent committees were announced and approved. The convention adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

On account of the number of important questions before the convention, adjournment was taken at an early hour in order to allow the various committees to hold conferences this afternoon to report tomorrow.

The outstanding features of today's short session were Chairman Wear's declaration that there would be no outside influences, particularly organizations, allowed to work during the convention, and the apparent defeat in the first skirmish of the prohibitionists by the appointment of opponents of Thomas B. Love as national com-

LONE STAR STATE REPUBLICANS GIVE NO INSTRUCTIONS

By the Associated Press.

Fort Worth, May 23.—Texas will send forty uninstructed delegates to the republican convention at Chicago, despite the ruling of the national executive committee limiting the representation to twenty-six. The state convention closed tonight with the election of H. F. MacGregor of Houston as national committeeman, and the naming of the forty delegates and alternates.

A bolt by disgruntled delegations from three districts materialized late tonight and eight delegates were named by the secessionists, mostly negroes.

A protective tariff and attacks upon the Wilson administration served as the keynote of McGregor's opening address.

FLOOD COMMITTEE STARTS ON TRIP UP BRAZOS RIVER

By the Associated Press.

Houston, Texas, May 23.—The congressional flood control committee, beginning today its 450-mile trip through Texas overflow districts, was at Freeport at noon, at the mouth of the Brazos, a stream whose mud-red waters have swept away in five years crops worth millions. Seven of the committee found it impossible to make the trip. The committee was met in Houston last night by the executive committee of the Brazos River and Valley Improvement association. Nearly 100 people are in the party.

The committee was interested in learning that at one time the Brazos river was known as the Colorado, and the Colorado as the Brazos.

Waco Guardsmen to Entrain For Border Duty Tomorrow

(By Staff Correspondent.)

San Benito, Texas, May 23.—The Second regiment of the Texas infantry will entrain Thursday morning for active duty of patrol, according to announcement coming from headquarters today. Companies K and G of Waco, company L of Brenham, company M of Hillsboro, under the command of Major Jackson of Hillsboro, will go to San Benito. Companies A, B, C and D, under command of Major Weatherred of Waco, will probably go to Mercedes. Companies E, F, H and I, under Major Roberts, probably will go to Harlingen.

Complete equipment for the Second regiment was received today, which includes new rifles and complete field equipment.

Company K held physical examination today with very little loss in men. That for company G was held yesterday. Both companies are completely equipped and the men are anxious for new duties.

Despite Bitter Assaults the French Hold Fort Douaumont

By the Associated Press.

The Germans have replied to the French bombardments with assault after assault and the deadly combat northeast and northwest of Verdun is still in progress.

Heavy masses of German troops have been thrown against the picked French troops whose successful attacks won for them the greater portions of Fort Douaument and considerable German territory adjacent to the fort of high strategic value.

These newly acquired positions the French have tenaciously held. The fighting at this point is characterized by Paris as "a murderous struggle."

Although they were hard held to the northeast the Germans would not be denied at Le Mort Homme and after having been mowed down by the French artillery and machine guns with sanguinary losses in several attacks finally gained a footing in trenches west of this much-fought-for position. Their tenure of the trenches was short-lived, however, for the French in a counter-attack immediately drove them out.

Rome admits that between the Astico and Brenta rivers and in the Suzana valley the Italians have fallen back on their main line defense.

While Rome asserts that the operations were carried out in perfect order after the Italians had repulsed Austrian attacks against the advanced line, Vienna says in the retreat from Bordo the Italians were forced across the border by the Austrians.

While along the Russian front the usual bombardments have continued almost exclusively in the river region, the Russians in an infantry attack drove the Germans across the Voseluhu river and destroyed their trenches.

In the coast region of Turkey, southwest of Trebizond, the Russians have repulsed attempts by the Turks to assume the offensive and also have dislodged the Ottoman forces from positions on one of the slopes of the Taures mountains. In their advance on Mosul with Mesopotamia their objective the Russians have occupied Serbechat.

The British house of commons has passed a vote of credit amounting to about $1,500,000.

Louisiana Democrats Endorse Wilson

By the Associated Press.

Baton Rouge, La., May 23.—Louisiana democrats in their state convention here tonight indorsed President Wilson's administration and selected twenty delegates to the national convention, including four at large.

President Wilson, in resolutions adopted today by the convention, was declared to have kept the United States at peace during the European war, at the same time retaining the prestige of the nation.

A larger navy and the other features of the nation's preparedness program were also endorsed.

Another resolution endorsed requested democratic members of the legislature to organize a democratic caucus and enact laws making the white primary more binding.

Such actions, according to the resolution, would prevent effective exercise of the negro franchise.

The delegates at large were Governor Pleasant, Senator Joseph Ransdell, Robert Ewing and Martin Behrman.

L. E. Thomas, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, was named permanent chairman of the conveniton.

Precedent Established.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—A precedent was established in the senate today by the recognition of a pair between Vice President Marshall and Senator Reed on the vote on a motion to reconsider the rejection of the nomination of George Rublee as a member of the federal trade committee failed to pass.

Senate records show that it was the first time in history that a vice president ever was paired and some parliamentarians claimed tonight that the proceeding was in conflict with the provision of the constitution authorizing the vice president to vote only for the purpose of breaking an announced tie.

Stifel Defeats Hadley.

ANTIS WANT DELEGATES CHOSEN BY DISTRICTS.

The anti forces will offer in the convention a proposition to allow each of the sixteen congressional districts to name one of the delegates at large.

If this should be rejected, then they will nominate Governor Ferguson to be one of such delegates and will fight it out on the floor of the convention.

Will A. Hanger probably will be the floor leader for the antis and Thomas H. Ball will act in that capacity for the pros.

Love's friends in the El Paso delegation say that they cannot control the vote of that county for Love as they had counted on.

DALLAS COUNTY AS UNIT FOR LOVE.

The Dallas county caucus instructed this morning, by a unanimous viva voce vote, that the thirty-three Dallas county convention votes be cast unanimously for Thomas B. Love for national committeeman.

A split in the Dallas delegation had been suggested, but the Love opponents made no fight in the caucus whatever.

The Fifth district caucus instructed for Royal R. Watkins of Dallas and T. F. Thompson of Hill county for delegates to St. Louis and Frank C. Wozencraft of Dallas for presidential elector from the Fifth district.

Joe B. Worsham presided at the caucus and Towne Young was secretary.

The caucus indorsed Harry P. Lawther and Gen. M. M. Crane for delegates at large and at the same time "ratified" the slate of the prohibition caucus last night.

This pro caucus named sixteen candidates, the full number of delegates at large, and did not name Lawther.

Mr. Lawther asked that his friends vote either for him or for Crane and not for both, since it would mean, he believed, elimination before the convention. It was a question, he felt, of whether Dallas county would express its own sentiment, or be dictated to by a committee of eight at the pro caucus last night.

The caucus refused to instruct for Lawther alone, and instructed for both Lawther and Crane, and then indorsed the "pro caucus ticket" last night.

Judge Barry Miller and others pointed out the apparent inconsistency; that if the sixteen pro caucus delegates are voted for there will "be no room" for the two Dallas delegates.

EXAR COUNTY FOR POINDEXTER.

Following a stormy caucus of the Exar county delegation on the floor of the convention today, Judge William Poindexter was indorsed for national committeeman. A strong fight was put up by supporters of Thomas B. Love, but it failed.

Cullen Thomas or Congressman Robert L. Henry may offer resolutions in convention endorsing President Wilson in more fulsome praise than that passed by the platform committee. Thomas is especially disappointed that the endorsement of President Wilson and his legislative acts should be so meager and stingy.

The credentials committee tonight refused to seat the delegation from Zapata county. The vote was 22 to 6. The democracy of the delegates was questioned.

SENATE REFUSES RECONSIDERATION ON RUBLEE VOTE

in time of war is proposed in a bill approved by President Wilson, introduced today in the house by Chairman Hay of the military affairs committee. The measure would provide for a council to consist of seven members especially qualified to aid in making a survey of the industries of the country and to create relations that will "render possible in time of need the immediate concentration and utilization of all the industrial resources of the nation."

An initial appropriation of $200,000 is asked for the work of the survey during the first year.

Agitation for such legislation has been widespread since the beginning of the European war. The dependence of the United States on other countries for its dyestuffs and nitrates has been urged as demonstrating the need for action.

Vote on Brandeis Today.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—Louis D. Brandeis' nomination to the supreme court will be passed upon tomorrow by the senate judiciary committee, which has had it under consideration since January.

It is predicted that at least nine of the ten democrats will vote for a favorable report. Senator Shields of Tennessee is regarded as uncertain. Should he vote against Brandeis, administration leaders said the committee will be tied and a return to the senate without recommendation would result.

Still Fighting on Waterway Bill.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—Consideration of committee amendments to the rivers and harbors appropriation bill was completed today. The only important change was the restoration of a $200,000 appropriation for deepening East river, New York, which was put into the bill by the house at the request of the president and stricken out by the senate committee.

Many senators have amendments and Senators Kenyon and Sherman have shown no signs of abandoning their filibuster, so there is no saying when a final vote on the bill will be reached.

The Utah senator contended that the surveys would duplicate previous investigations and that the work should be done entirely by the states.

Special Rule for Navy Bill.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—A special rule to provide for consideration of the naval appropriation bill with night session, a limited period of debate and a final vote not later than Friday or Saturday of next week will be brought up soon.

Leader Kitchin announced this plan tonight after a heated debate between democratic and republican leaders on the floor.

Leader Kitchin insisted republicans tacitly had agreed to the plan, which democrats now plan to force through by a special rule, while Mr. Mann maintained that no understanding had been reached.

Seven Witnesses Testify in Lynch Murder Trial

By the Associated Press.

Stuttgart, Ark., May 23.—Seven witnesses testified for the prosecution today in the third trial of Mrs. Lilly Lynch, accused of the murder of her husband, Robert Lynch, wealthy Woodruff county farmer.

The prosecution attempted to prove that Mrs. Lynch, who was estranged from her husband, plotted his death in order to obtain his property. Although she had started divorce proceedings against her husband, evidence was produced to show that she permitted him to visit her secretly at night at her home near Saulsburg.

Lynch was killed as he was climbing in the window of his wife's home late at night. Mrs. Lynch's son, Robert Spivey, who admitted that he killed Lynch, maintains that he believed Lynch to be a burglar. The prosecution contends that the defendant lured her husband to his death.

Miss Mabel Lynch, daughter of the slain man, testified today that she had heard her father, on the day he was killed, telephone to Mrs. Lynch arranging to come to her home late that night. Another witness today testified that while Lynch's underclothing was perforated by the shot that caused his death, there were no perforations in his outer garments.

Please Quit Sending Candy to Soldiers, Says Pershing

By the Associated Press.

Field Headquarters, Namiquipa, Mex., May 23.—Via Radio to Columbus, May 23.—The Carranza garrison at Madera is engaged in spreading reports calculated to stir up the populace against the Americans, according to a report received here today from that place. No clashes have been reported, however, between members of the expedition and Mexicans.

Carranza roops are keeping aloof from the American detachments.

General Pershing, through the press correspondents, thanks the American women who are contributing luxuries to the trip, but announces that the men are amply supplied with clothing and socks, and a further deluge of candies and delicacies would burden the army transports.

Osage Boy Dies Here.

Obie Kerby, 19 years old, died at midnight last night at 500 South Third street. He was brought here about six weeks ago for medical treatment, and when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kerby, who live on a farm near Osage, were informed that he could not live they came across country by auto, reaching his bedside a few hours before he died. The body will be sent to Osage today over the Cotton Belt by F. M. Compton, undertaker. Funeral services will be held at Osage tomorrow afternoon. In addition to his parent, the deceased is survived by two brothers and sisters.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get two ounces of plain powdered neroxin from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin—pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get them out after they become hard. The powdered neroxin and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anybody troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

CLUB WOMEN MAKE VISIT TO EDISON

By the Associated Press.

New York, May 23.—The thirteenth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs of America opened here today with 3000 delegates and alternates present, besides approximately ten thousand visitors, including the husbands of about a thousand delegates. The first general session of the convention will be held tomorrow night and by that time it is expected another one thousand delegates and alternates will have arrived.

Today was "New Jersey Day" and immediately after the business meetings the board members, headed by Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, the president, and Mrs. William J. Bryan, accompanied by more than 600 delegates, left in special trains for Orange, N. J., to attend a reception given by Thomas A. Edison and Mrs. Edison, one of the leading club women of her state.

Most of the one thousand or more husbands who accompanied delegates will attend the sessions of the convention. About two hundred of them, however, have formed a "lonely husbands' club" to explore the city.

Office of Viceroy of Ireland to Be Abolished

By the Associated Press.

London, May 24, 2:22 a. m.—Premier Asquith in the house of commons today will announce that the office of viceroy of Ireland has been abolished, according to the Daily Express.

Lord Wimborne, whose resignation as lord lieutenant has not yet been accepted, will be offered another post of importance under the government.

The Daily News says that the scheme for the solution of the Irish problem which has received the largest support in the cabinet, is for an agreement between the Irish leaders accepting the principle of separate parliaments for Ulster and the rest of Ireland after the war, but until the end of the war the government to be in the hands of a coalition executive council with offices equally distributed between the parties.

Will Try to Get Orpet Jurors From Waukegan

By the Associated Press.

Waukegan, Ill., May 24.—Tiring of endeavoring to obtain a jury from the rural districts of Lake county to try Will H. Orpet, the University of Wisconsin student on trial charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, his former sweetheart, Judge Donnelly today ordered the sixth special venire of one hundred men to be called, these to be from Waukegan and vicinity.

Waite to Take Stand in Own Behalf

New York, May 23.—Confronted by an unbroken chain of evidence, which the state claims proves him guilty of the murder of his wealthy father-in-law, John E. Peck of Grand Rapids, Mich., Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, the young New York dentist, will go on the witness stand in an effort to save his life from ending in the electric chair.

This decision was reached tonight by his counsel at the end of the second day of his trial.

The defendant's most trying ordeal probably will come tomorrow when his wife, Mrs. Clara Peck Waite, her brother, Percy Peck, and Mrs. Margaret Horton, with whom Waite shared a "studio" in a hotel here, will take the stand against him.

It is said the mysterious person named in the trial is an outsider to be used by the state's attorney. Her real name has not been revealed.

Eugene O. Kane, who embalmed Mr. Peck's body, testified today that Waite had given him $9000 and subsequently had requested him "to put some arsenic in his embalming fluid and send it to the district attorney."

This was after the autopsy on Mr. Peck's body had disclosed the presence of large quantities of arsenic in the vital organs of Waite's victim.

Cumberlands Close Convention.

By the Associated Press.

Birmingham, May 23.—With fifteen minutes of silent prayer, the eighty-sixth general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church came to a close here tonight. The assembly will meet next year in Lincoln, Ill.

The final meeting tonight was devoted to discussion of missions and the approval of plans for greater missionary activity during the coming year.

The report of the legal committee recommending that efforts be made to raise $5,000 to be paid to Judge D. W. Caldwell of Trenton, Tenn., in addition to a fee of approximately $15,000 already paid him for his services as attorney for the church in litigation with the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., over church property, brought about lengthy debate today, but the recommendation finally was approved.

Judge Edrington Still Testifying.

By the Associated Press.

Nashville, Tenn., May 23.—Judge Jesse Edrington of Memphis today continued his testimony in his own behalf in the impeachment trial before the senate.

He denied accepting money for modifying liquor injunctions. Edrington said the charge had been made by a state witness that the latter had given him money on June 8 to modify a nuisance law injunction, where as the injunction had been modified June 6.

In connection with the modification of the other injunction figuring in the case, the judge said he told the defendant in open court that if he violated the injunction he would send him to the work house.

Morin Killing Not Confirmed.

By the Associated Press.

Brownsville, May 23.—No confirmation had been received tonight of reports today that Colonel Louis Morin and Victoriano Ponce, alleged Mexican outlaws, had been killed by Texas Rangers, seventy-five miles north of Brownsville last night, when the Mexicans attempted to escape from rangers. The sheriff's office said they had not seen Morin or Ponce since they were turned over to rangers yesterday, presumably to be brought to Brownsville, where murder charges have been placed against them.

It was suggested tonight possibly the rangers had taken the two men to some isolated point for safe keeping.

Police Collusion With Vice Charged in Chicago

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, May 23.—Police collusion with vice is given as the reason for the existence of the social evil in Chicago in the report of the committee of fifteen made public today. The committee was organized three years ago for the correction of municipal ills of a social nature.

"The time has come when this committee," the report says, "in possession of incontrovertible facts cannot remain silent regarding the inefficiency and positive corruption which have been revealed in the police department."

A condition characterized as "abhorrent" by the committee, is the alleged proximity of places of vice to school houses.

"We have startling facts to reveal to the board of education on request," the report says.

Segregation of vice is called "a delusion and a snare" in the report.

Reason for alarm is found by the committee in the "marked increase of vice in dance halls and cabarets."

The only successful means for coping with "organized unlawfulness is organized righteousness," the report says.

Chihuahua City, Mex., May 23.—General Ignacio Reyes has informed General Trevino from Jiminez that he captured the bandit Abundio Hernandez and a supply of rifles and ammunition while searching for his brother, Nicholas Hernandez, Villa's chief of staff, who is reported in that district. General Maldonado has reported from Concho the execution of two officers and four soldiers of a Villa band who previously had received amnesty. They were shot for the robbery of a carload of provisions destined for the Nice mining camp. The goods were recovered.

ANTIS WANT DELEGATES CHOSEN BY DISTRICTS.

The anti forces will offer in the convention a proposition to allow each of the sixteen congressional districts to name one of the delegates at large.

If this should be rejected, then they will nominate Governor Ferguson to be one of such delegates and will fight it out on the floor of the convention.

Will A. Hanger probably will be the floor leader for the antis and Thomas H. Ball will act in that capacity for the pros.

Love's friends in the El Paso delegation say that they cannot control the vote of that county for Love as they had counted on.

DALLAS COUNTY AS UNIT FOR LOVE.

The Dallas county caucus instructed this morning, by a unanimous viva voce vote, that the thirty-three Dallas county convention votes be cast unanimously for Thomas B. Love for national committeeman.

A split in the Dallas delegation had been suggested, but the Love opponents made no fight in the caucus whatever.

The Fifth district caucus instructed for Royal R. Watkins of Dallas and T. F. Thompson of Hill county for delegates to St. Louis and Frank C. Wozencraft of Dallas for presidential elector from the Fifth district.

Joe B. Worsham presided at the caucus and Towne Young was secretary.

The caucus indorsed Harry P. Lawther and Gen. M. M. Crane for delegates at large and at the same time "ratified" the slate of the prohibition caucus last night.

This pro caucus named sixteen candidates, the full number of delegates at large, and did not name Lawther.

Mr. Lawther asked that his friends vote either for him or for Crane and not for both, since it would mean, he believed, elimination before the convention. It was a question, he felt, of whether Dallas county would express its own sentiment, or be dictated to by a committee of eight at the pro caucus last night.

The caucus refused to instruct for Lawther alone, and instructed for both Lawther and Crane, and then indorsed the "pro caucus ticket" last night.

Judge Barry Miller and others pointed out the apparent inconsistency; that if the sixteen pro caucus delegates are voted for there will "be no room" for the two Dallas delegates.

PEXAR COUNTY FOR POINDEXTER.

Following a stormy caucus of the Pexar county delegation on the floor of the convention today, Judge William Poindexter was indorsed for national committeeman. A strong fight was put up by supporters of Thomas B. Love, but it failed.

Cullen Thomas or Congressman Robert L. Henry may offer resolutions in convention endorsing President Wilson in more fulsome praise than that passed by the platform committee. Thomas is especially disappointed that the endorsement of President Wilson and his legislative acts should be so meager and stingy.

The credentials committee tonight refused to seat the delegation from Zapata county. The vote was 22 to 6. The democracy of the delegates was questioned.

SENATE REFUSES RECONSIDERATION ON RUBLEE VOTE

in time of war is proposed in a bill approved by President Wilson, introduced today in the house by Chairman Hay of the military affairs committee. The measure would provide for a council to consist of seven members especially qualified to aid in making a survey of the industries of the country and to create relations that will "render possible in time of need the immediate concentration and utilization of all the industrial resources of the nation."

An initial appropriation of $200,000 is asked for the work of the survey during the first year.

Agitation for such legislation has been widespread since the beginning of the European war. The dependence of the United States on other countries for its dyestuffs and nitrates has been urged as demonstrating the need for action.

Vote on Brandeis Today.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—Louis D. Brandeis' nomination to the supreme court will be passed upon tomorrow by the senate judiciary committee, which has had it under consideration since January.

It is predicted that at least nine of the ten democrats will vote for a favorable report. Senator Shields of Tennessee is regarded as uncertain. Should he vote against Brandeis, administration leaders said the committee will be tied and a return to the senate without recommendation would result.

Still Fighting on Waterway Bill.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—Consideration of committee amendments to the rivers and harbors appropriation bill was completed today. The only important change was the restoration of a $200,000 appropriation for deepening East river, New York, which was put into the bill by the house at the request of the president and stricken out by the senate committee.

Many senators have amendments and Senators Kenyon and Sherman have shown no signs of abandoning their filibuster, so there is no saying when a final vote on the bill will be reached.

The Utah senator contended that the surveys would duplicate previous investigations and that the work should be done entirely by the states.

Special Rule for Navy Bill.

By the Associated Press.

Washington, May 23.—A special rule to provide for consideration of the naval appropriation bill with night session, a limited period of debate and a final vote not later than Friday or Saturday of next week will be brought up soon.

Leader Kitchin announced this plan tonight after a heated debate between democratic and republican leaders on the floor.

Leader Kitchin insisted republicans tacitly had agreed to the plan, which democrats now plan to force through by a special rule, while Mr. Mann maintained that no understanding had been reached.

Seven Witnesses Testify in Lynch Murder Trial

By the Associated Press.

Stuttgart, Ark., May 23.—Seven witnesses testified for the prosecution today in the third trial of Mrs. Lilly Lynch, accused of the murder of her husband, Robert Lynch, wealthy Woodruff county farmer.

The prosecution attempted to prove that Mrs. Lynch, who was estranged from her husband, plotted his death in order to obtain his property. Although she had started divorce proceedings against her husband, evidence was produced to show that she permitted him to visit her secretly at night at her home near Saulsburg.

Lynch was killed as he was climbing in the window of his wife's home late at night. Mrs. Lynch's son, Robert Spivey, who admitted that he killed Lynch, maintains that he believed Lynch to be a burglar. The prosecution contends that the defendant lured her husband to his death.

Miss Mabel Lynch, daughter of the slain man, testified today that she had heard her father, on the day he was killed, telephone to Mrs. Lynch arranging to come to her home late that night. Another witness today testified that while Lynch's underclothing was perforated by the shot that caused his death, there were no perforations in his outer garments.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get two ounces of plain powdered neroxin from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin—pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get them out after they become hard. The powdered neroxin and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anybody troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

Louisiana Democrats Endorse Wilson

By the Associated Press.

Baton Rouge, La., May 23.—Louisiana democrats in their state convention here tonight indorsed President Wilson's administration and selected twenty delegates to the national convention, including four at large.

President Wilson, in resolutions adopted today by the convention, was declared to have kept the United States at peace during the European war, at the same time retaining the prestige of the nation.

A larger navy and the other features of the nation's preparedness program were also endorsed.

Another resolution endorsed requested democratic members of the legislature to organize a democratic caucus and enact laws making the white primary more binding.

Such actions, according to the resolution, would prevent effective exercise of the negro franchise.

The delegates at large were Governor Pleasant, Senator Joseph Bansdell, Robert Ewing and Martin Behrman.

L. E. Thomas, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, was named permanent chairman of the convention.

Washington, May 23.—A precedent was established in the senate today by the recognition of a pair between Vice President Marshall and Senator Reed on the vote on a motion to reconsider the rejection of the nomination of George Rublee as a member of the federal trade committee failed to pass.

Senate records show that it was the first time in history that a vice president ever was paired and some parliamentarians claimed tonight that the proceeding was in conflict with the provision of the constitution authorizing the vice president to vote only for the purpose of breaking an announced tie.

Police Collusion With Vice Charged in Chicago

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, May 23.—Police collusion with vice is given as the reason for the existence of the social evil in Chicago in the report of the committee of fifteen made public today. The committee was organized three years ago for the correction of municipal ills of a social nature.

"The time has come when this committee," the report says, "in possession of incontrovertible facts cannot remain silent regarding the inefficiency and positive corruption which have been revealed in the police department."

A condition characterized as "abhorrent" by the committee, is the alleged proximity of places of vice to school houses.

"We have startling facts to reveal to the board of education on request," the report says.

Segregation of vice is called "a delusion and a snare" in the report.

Reason for alarm is found by the committee in the "marked increase of vice in dance halls and cabarets."

The only successful means for coping with "organized unlawfulness is organized righteousness," the report says.

Welfare Organization Is Almost Completed, Says Statement

A large and enthusiastic crowd attended the meeting of the Waco Welfare league in the gold room of the Raleigh hotel last night at 8 o'clock. Although the public was not excluded the meeting practically resolved itself into an executive session.

The following statement was given out: "We have taken final steps toward the realization of those ideas and ideals which the Welfare league has been cherishing since its initial organization. Within a fortnight we will be in a position to announce that the organization which has been in the building since last Thanksgiving day is nearly completed and will stand a credit to the city and a sound foundation for that which is to come with great possibilities for the future welfare of Waco."

WAS CONFINED TO HER BED

Almost All the Time for Two or Three Years. Suffered Dreadful Pains. Praises Cardui.

Thomasville, N. C.—Mrs. J. W. Veach of R. F. D. 1, of this place, writes: "About 15 years ago I was confined to my bed almost all the time for two or three years, and suffered agony during that time.... I suffered dreadful pains in my hips, and head, and in the abdomen. I seemed to suffer all over, and I felt I would welcome death. I could not sleep at night and was awfully nervous.... I read of Cardui in the Almanac and thought I would try it, as I felt I must have some relief from this awful suffering, for I had lost my flesh, weighing only 94 pounds. I was getting weaker all the time and felt I would die if I didn't get something to help me.

"I sent for one bottle of Cardui and after its use I was improving. I then bought six bottles for $5.00, for I had seen it was helping me. The pain was relieved and I could sleep at night. My nerves got better.... I got several more bottles and had regained my health, strength and flesh, and weigh my usual weight.... My housework is a pleasure now. I have as good health as anybody. I consider Cardui saved my life."

SOCIALIST NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR SAYS OVERPLUS OF POWER

"Poverty is useless.

"Poverty ruins all peace, happiness, homes and society, endangering the whole institution of marriage, driving young men and women to shame. It is rotting the race with vile diseases.

"Chairman Walsh of the board of industrial relations committee has done more for socialism and humanity than any other man of any party, save socialism.

"I wouldn't give Jesus Christ the power that you people give to some of the rich men that you let run the government for you."

The foregoing are some of the remarks made at an open-air meeting at Fifth and Franklin streets last night by E. R. Meitzer, candidate for governor on the socialist ticket. Speaking of hoboes, he said that "very few hoboes, whether riding on the rods under a box car, or on a Pullman cushion, have any use for socialism, because it would make them go to work."

When asked by a man in the audience the party view of woman suffrage, he answered that they believed women to be "folks" and "a darn sight better than most men."

He discussed the Dick military bill at some length upon request, and declared it to be an imposition on the people and a step that no other country had yet taken.

According to Mr. Meitzer, the report of the board of industrial relations proved to be true the things for which the socialists have been contending for the last ten years. If the land owners persist in their advances on the rights of the tenant, the problem of the near future for the man of small means will be to find a place where he may lay his head, he said.

Woodmen Will Meet Tonight to Perfect Military Company

At the regular meeting of Geyser City camp No. 6, W. O. W., held Monday night, the proposition of the Woodman military company was brought up, and by a vote unanimously endorsed by the camp. The Woodman of the World is an organization teaching patriotism and loyalty, one of the first acts in opening ceremony being a salute to the Stars and Stripes, that must always hang over the consul commander's station. The Woodman of the World is always in the lead in any enterprise coming before the people for the betterment of the city, the state or the nation, and in their part of the preparedness program being carried out over the entire country they are actuated by the fraternal feeling of going to the rescue of those crying for help, whatever the cause may be. They also love peace to the extent that they are willing to fight for it. The organization of the proposed company is the outcropping of the fraternal spirit, to protect our loved ones and our neighbors from the invasion of a barbarious people, controlled only by a desire for murder and loot, thousands of which we have in our very midst. The company will meet at the armory on Austin street tonight at 8 o'clock for the purpose of perfecting the organization, electing its officers and enlisting those who desire to become members. Everybody interested is invited.

TWO APPEALING RECITALS GIVEN AT BAYLOR UNIV.

Miss Maurine Lucas Gives Piano Recital and Miss Louise Irwin Expression.

Misses Maurine Lucas and Louise Irwin gave two very pleasing recitals yesterday afternoon in Carroll chapel. There was an exceptionally large crowd present, which was most complimentary, considering the fact that there are so many recitals at the present time, in the afternoons.

Miss Lucas is from the piano class of Professor Rudolf Hoffmann, under whom she has been studying for the last three years. Her audience showed great appreciation for each number that she played throughout the program, of which the "Sonata, in A Major" (first movement), and "Aupres du Berceau" were unusually pleasing. Miss Lucas has developed quite a bit of originality in her period of study, as was shown in the interpretations of her numbers. Her technique is splendid, and her personal charm brought her the highest praise from those who heard her. The popularity of the young woman was manifested, not only by the good crowd present, but by the fact that, after the first group, she received four beautiful bouquets of flowers and after the last group, three more.

Miss Louise Irwin is the first of the senior class in expression to give her graduation recital. She read "The Prince and the Pauper," by Mark Twain, in which she related the meeting of the prince of Wales and a poor lad, who conceived the idea of changing their costumes. Both, not thinking of their likenesses causing confusion, tried to regain their original stations in life, but the prince was sent to the pauper's home and the pauper to the palace. Many months after, the king died and the pauper boy was to be crowned king, but on finding the prince in the pauper's garb both told the tale as it happened and the prince regained his rights. The second part of her program was "Tom Sawyer's Courtship," in which she was exceptionally good. She has an excellent stage appearance and gave a most pleasing rendition of the incidents in the courtship of the unfortunate "Tom," who is always getting into trouble.

Miss Irwin also received several beautiful bouquets of flowers after being called back to the stage with hearty applause.

Naval Station Gets Five Enlisted

Waco's naval recruiting station under the direction of Captain J. R. Hair, made a creditable showing last week, with five enlistments out of five men sent to Dallas, according to the weekly report received yesterday from Lieut. J. C. Cunningham. The report contained a severe censure for the poor showing made by some of the stations in Texas but Waco always has been around the top and will probably get first place at the end of the month, according to present indications.

Miss Reba Britton in Recital at 5 P. M.

Joseph Evans announces the graduation piano recital of Miss Reba Britton this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the chapel. Miss Britton is one of the most talented musicians in the university and the public will be treated with some good music at the recital. All are cordially invited.

Misses Louise Howard, Hazel Gorman, Haloise Herring and Edna Quissenberry, from Professor Evans' class in piano, will play at the chapel hour this morning at 10 o'clock sharp.

MACCABEES ARE WARMING UP TO GET STATE HEADQUARTERS

Meeting Held Last Night to Discuss Plans for Great Meeting Tuesday.

The review of Lone Star tent No. 41, Knights of the Maccabees, last night was one of the most interesting and enthusiastic held in many months, a large outpouring of the members of the order being present to witness the initiatory ceremony exemplified and to receive new applications for membership, also to discuss ways and means of getting out every possible member next Tuesday night, when the vote will be taken for the establishment of the great tent in Texas.

State Commander J. B. Sawtell was present last night and gave an outline of the good to come to Texas by this accomplishment. There are nearly 14,000 Maccabees in Texas now and the securing of a great tent for the state means much for the advancement of the order.

Among those who made interesting talks last night, aside from State Commander Sawtell, were Dr. H. B. Stiles, Hugh Allen, R. M. Sanderford, Local Commander William A. Reese, Lieutenant Commander A. Fauquet, C. A. Trull, J. E. Dyer, S. J. Chaffron, D. C. Childs, C. V. Bailey, E. M. Byars, J. E. Peters of Cleburne, G. W. McCroskey, R. L. Henderson, Dr. E. Toomim and J. H. Gibson.

The enthusiasts in charge of the big meeting for next Tuesday propose to give the tardy ones a hoodlum ride to the Maccabee tent. A committee will work all during the day Tuesday telephoning and making personal visits to the membership, which numbers 600.

The Ladies of the Maccabees will entertain Friday night, and an invitation extended to the tent last night was received with applause and, upon motion, unanimously accepted with thanks.

Applying this Paste Actually Removes Hairs

(Beauty Notes)

Merely applying an inexpensive paste to a hairy surface, say beauty specialists, will dissolve the hairs. This paste is made by mixing a little water with some powdered delatone; after about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple method not only removes every trace of hair, but leaves the skin free from blemish. To insure success with this treatment, be careful to get real delatone.

"Cigarettes Bad for Boys and Bull Frogs"

Carrying out a promise made to the boys under his supervision a short time ago, Prof. Paul Tyson of the high school yesterday demonstrated what cigarettes will do for fish, and the boys who witnessed the demonstration drew their own conclusions as to the effects on boys and men from such use.

The minnows and small channel cat were in a receptacle containing water, and were healthy specimens before the cigarette smoke was introduced into the water, but they died almost immediately when the smoke was blown into the water. The channel cat is supposed to be an unusually virile and tough member of the finny tribe, but the little channel cat used in the demonstration went the way of the minnows quickly, while frogs fell over dead with just a little whiff of the smoke.

The boys were convinced that the statements made regarding the bad effects of cigarettes were real and not overdrawn.

TWO APPEALING RECITALS GIVEN AT BAYLOR UNIV.

Miss Maurine Lucas Gives Piano Recital and Miss Louise Irwin Expression.

Misses Maurine Lucas and Louise Irwin gave two very pleasing recitals yesterday afternoon in Carroll chapel. There was an exceptionally large crowd present, which was most complimentary, considering the fact that there are so many recitals at the present time, in the afternoons.

Miss Lucas is from the piano class of Professor Rudolf Hoffmann, under whom she has been studying for the last three years. Her audience showed great appreciation for each number that she played throughout the program, of which the "Sonata, in A Major" (first movement), and "Aupres du Berceau" were unusually pleasing. Miss Lucas has developed quite a bit of originality in her period of study, as was shown in the interpretations of her numbers. Her technique is splendid, and her personal charm brought her the highest praise from those who heard her. The popularity of the young woman was manifested, not only by the good crowd present, but by the fact that, after the first group, she received four beautiful bouquets of flowers and after the last group, three more.

Miss Louise Irwin is the first of the senior class in expression to give her graduation recital. She read "The Prince and the Pauper," by Mark Twain, in which she related the meeting of the prince of Wales and a poor lad, who conceived the idea of changing their costumes. Both, not thinking of their likenesses causing confusion, tried to regain their original stations in life, but the prince was sent to the pauper's home and the pauper to the palace. Many months after, the king died and the pauper boy was to be crowned king, but on finding the prince in the pauper's garb both told the tale as it happened and the prince regained his rights. The second part of her program was "Tom Sawyer's Courtship," in which she was exceptionally good. She has an excellent stage appearance and gave a most pleasing rendition of the incidents in the courtship of the unfortunate "Tom," who is always getting into trouble.

Miss Irwin also received several beautiful bouquets of flowers after being called back to the stage with hearty applause.

Naval Station Gets Five Enlisted

Waco's naval recruiting station under the direction of Captain J. R. Hair, made a creditable showing last week, with five enlistments out of five men sent to Dallas, according to the weekly report received yesterday from Lieut. J. C. Cunningham. The report contained a severe censure for the poor showing made by some of the stations in Texas but Waco always has been around the top and will probably get first place at the end of the month, according to present indications.

Miss Reba Britton in Recital at 5 P. M.

Joseph Evans announces the graduation piano recital of Miss Reba Britton this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the chapel. Miss Britton is one of the most talented musicians in the university and the public will be treated with some good music at the recital. All are cordially invited.

Misses Louise Howard, Hazel Gorman, Haloise Herring and Edna Quissenberry, from Professor Evans' class in piano, will play at the chapel hour this morning at 10 o'clock sharp.

MACCABEES ARE WARMING UP TO GET STATE HEADQUARTERS

Meeting Held Last Night to Discuss Plans for Great Meeting Tuesday.

The review of Lone Star tent No. 41, Knights of the Maccabees, last night was one of the most interesting and enthusiastic held in many months, a large outpouring of the members of the order being present to witness the initiatory ceremony exemplified and to receive new applications for membership, also to discuss ways and means of getting out every possible member next Tuesday night, when the vote will be taken for the establishment of the great tent in Texas.

State Commander J. B. Sawtell was present last night and gave an outline of the good to come to Texas by this accomplishment. There are nearly 14,000 Maccabees in Texas now and the securing of a great tent for the state means much for the advancement of the order.

Among those who made interesting talks last night, aside from State Commander Sawtell, were Dr. H. B. Stiles, Hugh Allen, R. M. Sanderford, Local Commander William A. Reese, Lieutenant Commander A. Fauquet, C. A. Trull, J. E. Dyer, S. J. Chaffron, D. C. Childs, C. V. Bailey, E. M. Byars, J. E. Peters of Cleburne, G. W. McCroskey, E. L. Henderson, Dr. E. Toomim and J. H. Gibson.

The enthusiasts in charge of the big meeting for next Tuesday propose to give the tardy ones a hoodlum ride to the Maccabee tent. A committee will work all during the day Tuesday telephoning and making personal visits to the membership, which numbers 600.

The Ladies of the Maccabees will entertain Friday night, and an invitation extended to the tent last night was received with applause and, upon motion, unanimously accepted with thanks.

Applying this Paste Actually Removes Hairs

(Beauty Notes)

Merely applying an inexpensive paste to a hairy surface, say beauty specialists, will dissolve the hairs. This paste is made by mixing a little water with some powdered delatone; after about 2 minutes it is rubbed off and the skin washed. This simple method not only removes every trace of hair, but leaves the skin free from blemish. To insure success with this treatment, be careful to get real delatone.

"Cigarettes Bad for Boys and Bull Frogs"

Carrying out a promise made to the boys under his supervision a short time ago, Prof. Paul Tyson of the high school yesterday demonstrated what cigarettes will do for fish, and the boys who witnessed the demonstration drew their own conclusions as to the effects on boys and men from such use.

The minnows and small channel cat were in a receptacle containing water, and were healthy specimens before the cigarette smoke was introduced into the water, but they died almost immediately when the smoke was blown into the water. The channel cat is supposed to be an unusually virile and tough member of the finny tribe, but the little channel cat used in the demonstration went the way of the minnows quickly, while frogs fell over dead with just a little whiff of the smoke.

The boys were convinced that the statements made regarding the bad effects of cigarettes were real and not overdrawn.

EVIL DEEDS SEEK THE DARK.

(St. John 3:19-20.)

This is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved.

WHO WILL CAST THE FIRST STONE?

The News has not hesitated to voice the condemnation which every right-thinking person must feel with respect to the human holocaust which occurred on the streets of Waco. For that it has no word of palliation or excuse.

When criticism assails the deed, we have nothing to say. When it goes beyond that, as has been done by some journals within this state, and by many publications without the state, and when it indulges in wholesale denunciation of the south and of the people of Waco, we would be derelict in duty if we failed to make reply.

The outbreak of the spirit of revenge and passion which occurred here was simply an old, old story of human weakness which has blurred every page in history, and thrown its shadows across the world since time began.

No nation, no race, and no community has any just right to say to any other race or any other community: "I am holier than thou." All have sinned, and sinned alike.

It is in no spirit of boasting the assertion is made that under ordinary conditions no more law-abiding people can be found than those who live in Waco and its environment. In truth, the local conditions are exceptionally favorable to the development of good citizenship; but, alas, these things are of no avail when the torch has once been lit whose flames always obscure reason, paralyze law, and transform men into savages.

Let us not forget that millions of christians are now engaged in slaughtering other christians, in the manufacture of widows and orphans, and shout their paeans of triumph when one excels the other in spreading desolation throughout the world.

Let us not forget that unnumbered millions of people go to their humble couches every night hungry and forlorn because of the unspeakable crimes inflicted in the name of war.

Let us not forget that in our own land crimes go unrebuked and wrongs are suffered without a remedy in every nook and corner.

Let each community, and each man, and each woman, consider well how much there is to be atoned for of personal and social faults, and let him who is without sin cast the first stone.

Expletives and crimination get nowhere. There is a lesson yet to be learned by the world.

Civilization is but skin deep, refinement a sham, education a disappointment, unless there is deeply lodged in the human heart an abiding reverence for God, veneration for His law, and that charity which believeth, endureth and hopeth, looking forward to an individual immortality, and to a personal citizenship in a Kingdom of Peace which shall never end.

The progressives at Waco yesterday were all for Roosevelt; the regular republicans at Fort Worth were all for anybody but Roosevelt. When it is considered that all democrats and most independents are for Wilson, the reasons are plain for the expectation that the democratic victory in 1916 will exceed anything in the way of a political victory that has been seen since Governor Cleveland rode astraddle a tidal wave in 1892.

What's the matter with Tom B. Love—
Bald as a babe, serene as a dove;
(Though Governor F. says he's a sight)
Listen to that yell, "Our Tom's all right."

Those militiamen who went to San Antonio and then refused to take the oath of federal allegiance should receive a lesson sufficient to make it plain that the military service does not exist solely for purposes of dress parade.

Oh, Dear Doctor, can you tell
What will make John Barleycorn well?
He is sick and about to die,
Still he kicks and kicks for pie.

The executive committee thought it was playing a cute trick on the pros in sending the state convention to San Antonio, but they merely gave the pros a chance to rub in on San Antonio a primer lesson on the subject of temperance.

It will go against the grain for Mr. Wolters to seek his interviews with the democratic national executive committee through Committeeman Love, but he's a diplomat and will soon get used to it.

If Governor Ferguson will take the time from his arduous labors of state to read Les Miserables, he will find there a graphic description of the battle of Waterloo. Every Napoleon has his waterloo.

Teddy told a delegation of twenty-five who went to Oyster Bay to notify him that they were working for his nomination that he was deeply pleased by their action. Nobody doubts that.

The Colorado river is calming down at Austin, and the gars and water moccasins will soon be able to resume their summer pastime of football around the water gates of the new dam.

It does look as though "bier" and "beer" would soon be synonomous terms in the dictionary of Texas politics.

If Governor Ferguson is minded to listen to a little homely advice, hear this: "Don't monkey with a buzz saw."

Send on your telegrams to Washington, gentlemen. The presidential wastebasket is capacious.

Dr. Barton's resolutions seem to be marching on, without serious interruption.

OUR POPULAR UNIVERSITY.

The monthly report for April submitted by Miss Pauline McCauley, librarian, to the trustees of the public library, shows a steady increase of public interest, equivalent to more than ten per cent compared with last year. There were borrowed 8,718 books, of which 5,216 were taken by adults and 3,502 by children. The new applications were 254, of which 133 were adult and 121 juvenile. The Dickens stories attracted 492 children for the first series.

Rightly considered, the public library is a popular university in which should be enrolled all who desire to keep pace with the progress of the world.

That robber who searched a Texas and Pacific train near Shreveport, Monday, would be entitled to more consideration if he had stolen the Shreveport freight rate.

Col. Tom Ball and Mr. Bailey are going so fast in opposite directions that it requires no prophet to foresee they will soon come to the parting of the ways.

When Governor Ferguson made tiddlebits of George Armistead's olive branch of peace, he also climbed out on a limb and sawed the limb off.

Whether as postmaster, as peace maker, or as pace maker, George Armistead is always a Kentuckian, and ready to shake hands or to scrap, as the other fellow may prefer.

The republican convention at Fort Worth split in two—hamambia and senegambia. This has been a great year in Texas for twins.

Those eighteen country precincts which were not voted in the McLennan county convention will have their inning at San Antonio.

It was not the pros but the antis who attempted to draw President Wilson into the Texas fight—but he didn't draw.

There were quite a number of applicants for the scholarship.

This reduced price for that day only, it is stated, was brought about by competition between some oil dealers and merhcants of Princeton.

WILL INVESTIGATE THE GRAVEL RATE INCREASE

LEAGUE DIRECTORS APPOINT A COMMITTEE FOR SAKE OF ROAD CONSTRUCTION.

Will Send W. H. Hoffmann to Ad Club Convention—Many Routine Reports Made.

Reports showing satisfactory results thus far in the Robinson synodical school proposition and in the white way, and the appointment of a special committee to investigate the possibility of the railroad commission to suspend the forthcoming increase in rates of road building materials, were a few of the matters that received attention at a meeting of the Young Men's Business League directorate at which mostly routine reports were considered.

W. H. Hoffmann, chairman of the league's committee on publicity, was selected as the representative of the organization for the national convention of Associated Ad clubs at Philadelphia. F. A. Gildersleeve, from the local Ad club, appeared in behalf of the proposal to send a representative from the league to the convention.

Reports of Chairman C. P. Schenck of the civic improvement committee and other directors evidenced the interest that organization has in the proposal of a Katy employes' hospital, and the possibility of Waco for its location. A committee will be appointed to entertain officials of the road on the occasion of their visit here next Friday in connection with plans for the hospital.

W. W. Naman of the special committee on the Meridian highway into Bosque county said that the county commissioners had suggested that there was nothing that they could do just now, and that the committee had not gotten together for a definie survey of the situation recently. W. A. Poage, chairman of the committee, and unable to be present, will be asked, by a motion passed, to report some line of action to the directorate.

APPLAUD WHITE WAY REPORT.

Reporting on the white way project, Mr. Naman said that the league had done all that was expected of it in bringing the matter to a successful culmination and that it was now up to the city government and light company to sign up the contract. Mr. Naman's white way report was received with applause, and President Duncan expressed the appreciation of the directors for the personal effort that Mr. Naman had put into the matter in the past two years.

Details of the program for the commemorative program at Cameron park next Monday, May 29, have been turned over to Misses Fay and Byrd Hoffmann, so far as the dance revue feature was concerned, it was reported. Through the kindness of the Misses Hoffmann it is expected that a very attractive open air program will be given. The entertainment will begin at 6:45. The official family of the city will receive a special invitation from the league to be present.

ROBINSON SCHOOL PROJECT PROGRESSING.

Steps were taken by the recent convention of the German Evangelical synod in session at Robinson which seek to have the national synod establish a national school at Robinson, the special committee on this matter reported. It was suggested in the report this action of the convention in recommending a national school instead of a district institution was even more favorable than the committee and John Strauss of Robinson had contemplated. The project in consideration is the conversion of the Strauss academy of Robinson into a synodical school, and the league is lending its influence in this direction. Composing the committee are W. W. Naman, Robt. L. Dupree, R. E. L. Montgomery and Louey Migel.

The league committee to co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce and with the Rotary club is doing its part in preparing entertainment for the congressional flood committee, it was reported. A feature of the entertainment will be an elaborate banquet at the Raleigh Friday night, following the preparedness parade.

WOULD PREVENT INCREASE IN RATES.

Looking to the suspension if possible of the railroad commission on the increase tariff in the case of gravel, President Duncan appointed a special committee consisting of G. H. Zimmerman, R. J. Windrow and F. E. Goodman. Because of the fact that the rates on gravel and rocks, used in the construction of improved highways, affect materially the cost and consequent activity in this direction, it was the sense of the directorate that the rate should not apply at least to such materials to be used in county and district road building. Action on the matter came at the instance of a communication from R. S. Legate, chairman of the Citizens' Road commission of Grayson county.

A letter will be addressed by the president to the state insurance commission this morning, asking that action in a conference called for tomorrow to consider the proposed 33 1-3 per cent increase in fire insurance rates in this state, be deferred. It was the hope that postponement would prevail in order to give the commercial bodies of the state more time for investigation.

G. E. Kepple, city editor of the Houston Chronicle, was a visitor and made a talk on the constructive vitality that young blood puts into civic life. He was well received. Other visitors present were B. M. Selle, a local cigar manufacturer, and J. N. Boyd, county commissioner.

Suggesting that trash cans which were recently placed along Austin street were not sightly, one of the directors precipitated a warm discussion. The matter was referred to the civic improvement committee.

Following a heated discussion, it was determined to take some steps toward putting the "Welcome to Waco" sign at Fourth and Austin streets in better condition. The current of the sign will be cut off until repairs are made.

DAILY SHORT STORY

Not Miss Mary Mullin.

By KEITH KENYON.

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Margaret Wolfendale could scarcely believe her eyes when she opened the paper and beheld a splendid likeness of herself heading an advertisement for Nervolo.

There wasn't a doubt of it. It was an exact reproduction of a photograph she had had taken a year ago before her trip to California, and there it was staring at her above half inch letters which announced boldly, "I am a different woman."

"For goodness sake!" gasped Margaret. "For goodness sake!" And she ran her eyes hurriedly through the ad that announced that some fellow mortal had ceased to have all kinds of aches, pains, dizziness and insomnia since taking Nervolo. But, to her intense relief, the name and address given below were strange to her. There was no further clew to her identity, at least to the world at large, than the very good picture of herself.

But her friends! They would recognize it instantly, and she shuddered to think of all they would have to say. She would be the butt of all their jokes for months to come.

She looked for the address of Nervolo. It was not given. "For sale by all druggists" was the modest statement. So she called up a certain pharmacy and learned that although the birthplace of the nostrum was New York city, there was a certain wholesale agency in town that might know something about it and its advertising methods.

So, supported by the indignation of the family and armed with the evidence of Nervolo's iniquity, Margaret went forth to find the culprits and deal out what punishment she thought fit. One could scarcely blame those responsible for the sale of the new patent medicine for wishing to publish the photograph of the prettiest girl in town, and Margaret's was the kind of attractiveness that compelled people, no matter how well bred, to "turn round for another look." The best of it was that she was entirely unconscious of attracting any attention.

The wholesale house once located, it was explained to Margaret that Nervolo was shipped from New York, but that the advertising was a thing separate and apart from the handling. The salesman, in turn, directed her to a certain advertising agency on the fifteenth floor of a nearby skyscraper, which, he thought, could probably solve the riddle.

Margaret, who needed only a fresh glance at the newspaper clipping to rekindle any waning flame of indignation, found an office door which bore on its ground glass upper half the words, "The Orion Advertising Company. G. W. Stephenson, Manager."

The outer office, done tastefully in willow and cretonne, contained a small office boy, who admitted Mr. Stephenson was in, and upon inquiry returned with the news that he would see her.

Margaret fortified herself with another "peek" at herself done in ink, and the resultant flash in her eyes, flush in her cheeks and compression of her lips boded ill for some one, presumably Mr. G. W. Stephenson, manager.

The man behind the big mahogany desk rose politely as she entered.

"Good morning. Won't you sit down?" he began pleasantly, indicating a chair in close proximity to the desk, and when Margaret was seated he resumed his chair. "I am entirely at your service," he went on. "What can I do for you, Miss. The boy didn't give me your name."

Margaret referred to the clipping. "According to this, I am Miss Mary Mullin, of 4322 Douglas street," she said, with the most caustic manner she could assume.

"If it's in print it must be true," he smiled.

"Must it? Well, it isn't. And I think you know it isn't. But since you prefer not to understand I'll explain the situation," which she did in a few words.

But the young man seemed to be more interested in the curve of her cheek, the bend of her head, and the way her hair was done, low on her neck, than he was in her words.

"And," she proceeded indignantly, "I want it understood that if this picture of mine appears in any paper after today father's lawyers will make it unpleasant for the Nervolo company. I don't know how far it involves you, since you only do their advertising, but it's up to you to stop it anyway."

"I'm really very sorry about the entire affair, Miss. You see, you haven't told me your name yet."

"It isn't necessary," said Margaret, severely, "to tell you who I am. But I am not Miss Mary Mullin. Good morning."

When the door had closed on his fair visitor, George Stephenson reached for the telephone and called for a number. "Is that you, Bob? You remember the photograph of a girl you had stuck up on your mantel, the one you said you didn't know and gave to me because I—well, because I liked it? Well, I've tried to locate her ever since and failed, and then I struck on a bright idea of running a fictitious ad with her picture. I thought that would bring some sign of life, and it sure did. Bob, she's just been here, raging mad, but she's glorious. You ought to see her. She's a wonder! I couldn't find out her name. She wouldn't tell it. All I know is that her dad is somebody, for she mentioned his lawyers and what they would do to me. Give a fellow some advice, won't you? Since I've seen her I'm wild. I know I'm a gump to let her get away, but I was hypnotized and couldn't think of a thing. I wish you'd try to think where you got that photograph. Strange you'd forget! What's that? You'll try to help? You're a brick, Bob. No, I can't tonight, thanks. Tomorrow night! All right. Goodbye."

At seven the next evening, George presented himself at Bob's front door and asked for his host. He was ushered into the living room and asked to wait. He knew the family well and proceeded to wind up the Victrola and put on his favorite tunes. Presently McCormack was singing "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," and George was humming the air. He was thinking of the girl Bob was to help him to find, the girl he had produced, but not identified.

McCormack sang:

"Thou wouldst still be adored as this moment thou art,
Let thy loveliness fade as it will,
And around the dear ruin each wish of my heart
Will entwine itself verdantly still."

And George whispered softly, "Amen."

There was a sound, soft, almost inarticulate, and he turned.

In the doorway, in an exquisite frock of filmy white net, stood the girl of whom he was dreaming, the girl with no identity, the one Bob had promised to help find. He had done amazingly well! George advanced a step and stopped, remembering suddenly how low he stood in the young lady's estimation.

Margaret, in turn, was quite as perceptibly stunned. "So this is Bob's friend!" she realized. "It's odd how things come out." And she reddened at the thought of her conduct of the day before.

She held out her hand. "My brother won't be down for a minute. He told me to see that you weren't bored," she said.

"Your brother?"

"Yes, my brother Bob."

"I don't understand. I've been here often in the last year and—"

"Oh, I've been in California until a week ago. Sit down, won't you, and we will talk it over."

"But Bob said he didn't know you when I took your picture!"

"His idea of a joke, I suppose! But is that how you got my picture? And why, please, did you use it the way you did?"

"Because," he hesitated. "Because I was desperate to discover your identity. I fell in love with your likeness and the advertisement was only a ruse to find out who you were."

"So you two have got together at last," exclaimed Bob, blowing in just then. "Thank Heaven, there's one job off my hands."

EVIL DEEDS SEEK THE DARK.

(St. John 3:19-20.)

This is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved.

WHO WILL CAST THE FIRST STONE?

The News has not hesitated to voice the condemnation which every right-thinking person must feel with respect to the human holocaust which occurred on the streets of Waco. For that it has no word of palliation or excuse.

When criticism assails the deed, we have nothing to say. When it goes beyond that, as has been done by some journals within this state, and by many publications without the state, and when it indulges in wholesale denunciation of the south and of the people of Waco, we would be derelict in duty if we failed to make reply.

The outbreak of the spirit of revenge and passion which occurred here was simply an old, old story of human weakness which has blurred every page in history, and thrown its shadows across the world since time began.

No nation, no race, and no community has any just right to say to any other race or any other community: "I am holier than thou." All have sinned, and sinned alike.

It is in no spirit of boasting the assertion is made that under ordinary conditions no more law-abiding people can be found than those who live in Waco and its environment. In truth, the local conditions are exceptionally favorable to the development of good citizenship; but, alas, these things are of no avail when the torch has once been lit whose flames always obscure reason, paralyze law, and transform men into savages.

Let us not forget that millions of christians are now engaged in slaughtering other christians, in the manufacture of widows and orphans, and shout their paeans of triumph when one excels the other in spreading desolation throughout the world.

Let us not forget that unnumbered millions of people go to their humble couches every night hungry and forlorn because of the unspeakable crimes inflicted in the name of war.

Let us not forget that in our own land crimes go unrebuked and wrongs are suffered without a remedy in every nook and corner.

Let each community, and each man, and each woman, consider well how much there is to be atoned for of personal and social faults, and let him who is without sin cast the first stone.

Expletives and crimination get nowhere. There is a lesson yet to be learned by the world.

Civilization is but skin deep, refinement a sham, education a disappointment, unless there is deeply lodged in the human heart an abiding reverence for God, veneration for His law, and that charity which believeth, endureth and hopeth, looking forward to an individual immortality, and to a personal citizenship in a Kingdom of Peace which shall never end.

The progressives at Waco yesterday were all for Roosevelt; the regular republicans at Fort Worth were all for anybody but Roosevelt. When it is considered that all democrats and most independents are for Wilson, the reasons are plain for the expectation that the democratic victory in 1916 will exceed anything in the way of a political victory that has been seen since Governor Cleveland rode astraddle a tidal wave in 1892.

What's the matter with Tom B. Love—
Bald as a babe, serene as a dove;
(Though Governor F. says he's a sight)
Listen to that yell, "Our Tom's all right."

Those militiamen who went to San Antonio and then refused to take the oath of federal allegiance should receive a lesson sufficient to make it plain that the military service does not exist solely for purposes of dress parade.

Oh, Dear Doctor, can you tell
What will make John Barleycorn well?
He is sick and about to die,
Still he kicks and kicks for pie.

The executive committee thought it was playing a cute trick on the pros in sending the state convention to San Antonio, but they merely gave the pros a chance to rub in on San Antonio a primer lesson on the subject of temperance.

It will go against the grain for Mr. Wolters to seek his interviews with the democratic national executive committee through Committeeman Love, but he's a diplomat and will soon get used to it.

If Governor Ferguson will take the time from his arduous labors of state to read Les Miserables, he will find there a graphic description of the battle of Waterloo. Every Napoleon has his waterloo.

Teddy told a delegation of twenty-five who went to Oyster Bay to notify him that they were working for his nomination that he was deeply pleased by their action. Nobody doubts that.

The Colorado river is calming down at Austin, and the gars and water moccasins will soon be able to resume their summer pastime of football around the water gates of the new dam.

It does look as though "bier" and "beer" would soon be synonomous terms in the dictionary of Texas politics.

Send on your telegrams to Washington, gentlemen. The presidential wastebasket is capacious.

Dr. Barton's resolutions seem to be marching on, without serious interruption.

OUR POPULAR UNIVERSITY.

The monthly report for April submitted by Miss Pauline McCauley, librarian, to the trustees of the public library, shows a steady increase of public interest, equivalent to more than ten per cent compared with last year. There were borrowed 8,718 books, of which 5,216 were taken by adults and 3,502 by children. The new applications were 254, of which 133 were adult and 121 juvenile. The Dickens stories attracted 492 children for the first series.

Rightly considered, the public library is a popular university in which should be enrolled all who desire to keep pace with the progress of the world.

That robber who searched a Texas and Pacific train near Shreveport, Monday, would be entitled to more consideration if he had stolen the Shreveport freight rate.

Col. Tom Ball and Mr. Bailey are going so fast in opposite directions that it requires no prophet to foresee they will soon come to the parting of the ways.

When Governor Ferguson made tiddlebits of George Armistead's olive branch of peace, he also climbed out on a limb and sawed the limb off.

Whether as postmaster, as peace maker, or as pace maker, George Armistead is always a Kentuckian, and ready to shake hands or to scrap, as the other fellow may prefer.

The republican convention at Fort Worth split in two—hambambia and senegambia. This has been a great year in Texas for twins.

Those eighteen country precincts which were not voted in the McLennan county convention will have their inning at San Antonio.

It was not the pros but the antis who attempted to draw President Wilson into the Texas fight—but he didn't draw.

LEAGUE DIRECTORS APPOINT A COMMITTEE FOR SAKE OF ROAD CONSTRUCTION.

Will Send W. H. Hoffmann to Ad Club Convention—Many Routine Reports Made.

Reports showing satisfactory results thus far in the Robinson synodical school proposition and in the white way, and the appointment of a special committee to investigate the possibility of the railroad commission to suspend the forthcoming increase in rates of road building materials, were a few of the matters that received attention at a meeting of the Young Men's Business League directorate at which mostly routine reports were considered.

W. H. Hoffmann, chairman of the league's committee on publicity, was selected as the representative of the organization for the national convention of Associated Ad clubs at Philadelphia. F. A. Gildersleeve, from the local Ad club, appeared in behalf of the proposal to send a representative from the league to the convention.

Reports of Chairman C. P. Schenck of the civic improvement committee and other directors evidenced the interest that organization has in the proposal of a Katy employes' hospital, and the possibility of Waco for its location. A committee will be appointed to entertain officials of the road on the occasion of their visit here next Friday in connection with plans for the hospital.

W. W. Naman of the special committee on the Meridian highway into Bosque county said that the county commissioners had suggested that there was nothing that they could do just now, and that the committee had not gotten together for a definie survey of the situation recently. W. A. Poage, chairman of the committee, and unable to be present, will be asked, by a motion passed, to report some line of action to the directorate.

APPLAUD WHITE WAY REPORT.

Reporting on the white way project, Mr. Naman said that the league had done all that was expected of it in bringing the matter to a successful culmination and that it was now up to the city government and light company to sign up the contract. Mr. Naman's white way report was received with applause, and President Duncan expressed the appreciation of the directors for the personal effort that Mr. Naman had put into the matter in the past two years.

Details of the program for the commemorative program at Cameron park next Monday, May 29, have been turned over to Misses Fay and Byrd Hoffmann, so far as the dance revue feature was concerned, it was reported. Through the kindness of the Misses Hoffmann it is expected that a very attractive open air program will be given. The entertainment will begin at 6:45. The official family of the city will receive a special invitation from the league to be present.

ROBINSON SCHOOL PROJECT PROGRESSING.

Steps were taken by the recent convention of the German Evangelical synod in session at Robinson which seek to have the national synod establish a national school at Robinson, the special committee on this matter reported. It was suggested in the report this action of the convention in recommending a national school instead of a district institution was even more favorable than the committee and John Strauss of Robinson had contemplated. The project in consideration is the conversion of the Strauss academy of Robinson into a synodical school, and the league is lending its influence in this direction. Composing the committee are W. W. Naman, Robt. L. Dupree, R. E. L. Montgomery and Louey Migel.

The league committee to co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce and with the Rotary club is doing its part in preparing entertainment for the congressional flood committee, it was reported. A feature of the entertainment will be an elaborate banquet at the Raleigh Friday night, following the preparedness parade.

WOULD PREVENT INCREASE IN RATES.

Looking to the suspension if possible of the railroad commission on the increase tariff in the case of gravel, President Duncan appointed a special committee consisting of G. H. Zimmerman, R. J. Windrow and F. E. Goodman. Because of the fact that the rates on gravel and rocks, used in the construction of improved highways, affect materially the cost and consequent activity in this direction, it was the sense of the directorate that the rate should not apply at least to such materials to be used in county and district road building. Action on the matter came at the instance of a communication from R. S. Legate, chairman of the Citizens' Road commission of Grayson county.

A letter will be addressed by the president to the state insurance commission this morning, asking that action in a conference called for tomorrow to consider the proposed 33 1-3 per cent increase in fire insurance rates in this state, be deferred. It was the hope that postponement would prevail in order to give the commercial bodies of the state more time for investigation.

G. E. Kepple, city editor of the Houston Chronicle, was a visitor and made a talk on the constructive vitality that young blood puts into civic life. He was well received. Other visitors present were B. M. Selle, a local cigar manufacturer, and J. N. Boyd, county commissioner.

"Must it? Well, it isn't. And I think you know it isn't. But since you prefer not to understand I'll explain the situation," which she did in a few words.

But the young man seemed to be more interested in the curve of her cheek, the bend of her head, and the way her hair was done, low on her neck, than he was in her words.

"And," she proceeded indignantly, "I want it understood that if this picture of mine appears in any paper after today father's lawyers will make it unpleasant for the Nervolo company. I don't know how far it involves you, since you only do their advertising, but it's up to you to stop it anyway."

"I'm really very sorry about the entire affair, Miss. You see, you haven't told me your name yet."

"It isn't necessary," said Margaret, severely, "to tell you who I am. But I am not Miss Mary Mullin. Good morning."

When the door had closed on his fair visitor, George Stephenson reached for the telephone and called for a number. "Is that you, Bob? You remember the photograph of a girl you had stuck up on your mantel, the one you said you didn't know and gave to me because I—well, because I liked it? Well, I've tried to locate her ever since and failed, and then I struck on a bright idea of running a fictitious ad with her picture. I thought that would bring some sign of life, and it sure did. Bob, she's just been here, raging mad, but she's glorious. You ought to see her. She's a wonder! I couldn't find out her name. She wouldn't tell it. All I know is that her dad is somebody, for she mentioned his lawyers and what they would do to me. Give a fellow some advice, won't you? Since I've seen her I'm wild. I know I'm a gump to let her get away, but I was hypnotized and couldn't think of a thing. I wish you'd try to think where you got that photograph. Strange you'd forget! What's that? You'll try to help? You're a brick, Bob. No, I can't tonight, thanks. Tomorrow night! All right. Goodbye."

At seven the next evening, George presented himself at Bob's front door and asked for his host. He was ushered into the living room and asked to wait. He knew the family well and proceeded to wind up the Victrola and put on his favorite tunes. Presently McCormack was singing "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," and George was humming the air. He was thinking of the girl Bob was to help him to find, the girl he had produced, but not identified.

McCormack sang:

"Thou wouldst still be adored as this moment thou art.
Let thy loveliness fade as it will,
And around the dear ruin each wish of my heart
Will entwine itself verdantly still."

And George whispered softly, "Amen."

There was a sound, soft, almost inarticulate, and he turned.

In the doorway, in an exquisite frock of filmy white net, stood the girl of whom he was dreaming, the girl with no identity, the one Bob had promised to help find. He had done amazingly well! George advanced a step and stopped, remembering suddenly how low he stood in the young lady's estimation.

Margaret, in turn, was quite as perceptibly stunned. "So this is Bob's friend!" she realized. "It's odd how things come out." And she reddened at the thought of her conduct of the day before.

She held out her hand. "My brother won't be down for a minute. He told me to see that you weren't bored," she said.

"Your brother?"

"Yes, my brother Bob."

"I don't understand. I've been here often in the last year and—"

"Oh, I've been in California until a week ago. Sit down, won't you, and we will talk it over."

"But Bob said he didn't know you when I took your picture!"

"His idea of a joke, I suppose! But is that how you got my picture? And why, please, did you use it the way you did?"

"Because," he hesitated. "Because I was desperate to discover your identity. I fell in love with your likeness and the advertisement was only a ruse to find out who you were."

"So you two have got together at last," exclaimed Bob, blowing in just then. "Thank Heaven, there's one job off my hands."

NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN SENDS GREETINGS.

The call for the convention having been read by Secretary Kepple, a telegram was read by the chairman from Hon. H. L. Borden, national committeeman from Texas, now in New York, expressing regret that he could not be present, but saying he had seen Colonel Roosevelt and that the great Bull Mooser sent a message to the boys in Texas who had stood by him before, and assuring the boys he would not forget the boys or the principles of 1912. "His hat is in the ring, and the spring drive has commenced," said the message, and the cheers were loud and long.

The recommendation of the executive committee as to temporary offices was adopted, this making the following the temporary officers: F. M. Wright, Fort Worth, chairman; G. E. Kepple, Houston, secretary; E. M. Mulkey, Sherman, sargeant-at-arms.

The temporary roll attached showed that there had been elected to the convention 239 delegates, and that nearly half of these were present. A call of the sixteen congressional districts in Texas showed all districts represented except the Ninth and Tenth.

Chairman Wright, in taking the gavel, said he "would observe parliamentary rules, but that some precedents might be broken during the day." He asked co-operation of all present.

FULL COMMITTEE LIST IS APPOINTED.

J. E. Williams of Hamilton moved the appointment of committees on permanent organization, credentials, delegations and presidential electors, and resolutions, and when this was adopted the committees were selected by Chairman Wright as follows:

Permanent organization: Bart Marshall, Sherman; H. A. Baker, Midland; R. H. Crabb, Leonard; S. C. Kyle, San Antonio; F. W. Brooks, Beaumont; O. P. Maricle, Wichita Falls; W. J. Allen, Tyler; C. J. Crane, Palestine; D. C. Earnest, Dallas.

Credentials: C. A. Gray, Bonhom; O. S. Hunter, Beaumont; K. N. Timolot, San Antonio; W. H. Nattai, Bellville; W. L. Boyd, Kemp; Earl Wharton, Houston; Sloan Simpson, Dallas; J. S. Dunlap, Dallas; O. E. Schow, Clifton.

Resolutions: M. Ethridge, Dallas; R. E. Hanney, Hempstead; Noah Allen, San Antonio; Harry Masterson, Houston; G. W. Ray, Fort Worth; W. P. Hallmark, Dublin; B. W. Fields, Greenville; G. W. Burkett, Sr., Palestine; A. C. Hamilton, Laredo.

Delegates and presidential electors: J. M. McCormick, Dallas; Joe E. Williams, Hamilton; T. G. Martin, Spofford; C. W. Hutchison, Fort Worth; C. N. Mulkey, Sherman; Rube Freeman, Corsicana; H. B. Wilson, Beaumont; K. N. Hapgood, Henrietta; W. E. Singleton, Jefferson.

The committee on credentials reported to the convention, after all committees had been out for an hour. The report of the committee asked that the roll previously presented be adopted, and this prevailed.

TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION IS MADE PERMANENT.

The temporary organization was made permanent, on recommendation of the committee on organization, and Chairman Wright accepted in a few words.

Judge Noah Allen of San Antonio was asked to make an address and did so, criticising the democratic policies of "watchful waiting and vexatious vacillation." He lauded Theodore Roosevelt and the progressive party amid cheers. He spoke of an "unhyphenated American citizenship," and said that a firm hand was needed at the helm. Preparedness of every kind was indorsed, the Mexican policy condemned and Theodore Roosevelt mentioned as the one man who could settle the Mexican trouble and other puzzling problems.

"Consul Hanna of the United States was publicly insulted, hooted and dragged through the streets of Mexico City and not a word was said by the administration; in fact, the degrading incident was suppressed," said a delegate in the audience, the utterance being applauded.

SPEECHES HIT WILSON HARD.

Continuing his address, Judge Allen referred to President Wilson as "a spineless, alleged president," and said the democratic party had broken down at every point. He also roasted the republican party in Texas for snubbing the progressives, and said if there was any harmonizing done or overtures made, the republicans would be the ones to do it. The speaker sharply criticised former President W. H. Taft and said that Taft had indorsed everything done by the would-be president, Wilson. The republicans would be forced to accept Roosevelt at Chicago unless all signs failed, and Roosevelt would sweep the country like a whirlwind. Loud cheers greeted his utterances.

Chairman F. M. Etheridge of the resolutions committee presented the report of that committee. All resolutions presented were adopted.

Hon. F. M. Wright,
Chairman Progressive State Convention:

Your committee on resolutions beg leave to submit the following:

Resolved, That we favor the election of Henry L. Borden of Houston as a member of the progressive national executive committee and that the delegates to the progressive national convention be and they are hereby instructed to vote for his election as such committeeman.

SYMPATHY AT DEATH OF CECIL LYON.

Inasmuch as it has pleased the Ruler of the universe to remove from our midst our former state chairman and national committeeman, General Cecil A. Lyon, therefore we, the progressives of Texas, in state convention assembled, desire to give public expression to our appreciation and high regard for his manly qualities, both as a citizen and a leader of men. It is our conscientious conviction that in his death our party has lost a wise and efficient leader, the state one of her foremost citizens, and the nation a worthy and loyal patriot.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be given to the press of the state, and also a copy sent to the family of the deceased.

RESOLUTIONS AGAINST DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION.

First: We hereby renew our faith in and allegiance to the principles of the progressive party as enunciated in its national platform of 1912.

Second: We condemn the weak and vacillating policy of the present administration which has put the people of the United States in a false and humiliating attitude before the world, and we are justly resentful. The administration's foreign policy, if it may be said to have had any fixed policy, and more especially in reference to Mexico, consist sof a succession of lamentable blunders.

Third: We heartily commend the principle and spirit of true Americanism and preparedness in fact, as contradistinguished from a "make-believe" preparedness for political purposes and the protection of American citizens and American rights at home and abroad, on land and on sea, as typified by that illustrious patriot, Theodore Roosevelt, whom we regard as the greatest living American today. The exigencies of this nation are such as to imperatively require the election of Theodore Roosevelt to the presidency as an essential to the restoration of the confidence of the American people and the respect to which this nation is entitled amongst the nations of the earth, and that peace with honor and prosperity with pride shall prevail as the result of the unfaltering advocacy of true Americanism.

FOR ROOSEVELT— BUT NOT BY INSTRUCTION.

"I move you that the delegation be instructed to vote first, last and all the time for Theodore Roosevelt, at Chicago, and that they vote as a unit," said Charles Crane of Palestine, rising in the audience.

This precipitated about the only discussion that ensued in the entire convention, Judge Harris Masterson of Houston and several others taking the position that while they favored Roosevelt as enthusiastically as did Mr. Crane, yet a condition might arise which would make it inexpedient to tie the hands of the delegation to Chicago, and in fact the resolutions committee, in their opinion, went just as far as an instrument could go without actually binding those going to the Chicago convention.

"All right, then, I will withdraw my motion, but the only trade the republicans could make with me would be to trade Roosevelt for Wilson and let things go to hell," said Mr. Crane, amid laughter.

The convention thanked the city for the use of the blue room at the city hall as a meeting place, and heartily thanked the press for the evident efforts to secure a full and complete report of the gathering.

Before adjourning it was stated that it was understood by all that Judge J. M. McCormick of Dallas was to be the chairman of the delegation going to Chicago in June.

The convention then closed amid pealing cheers which continued for several seconds after the meeting was announced ended.

Women of Waco Make Plea For Return to Former Plan Of a Pure Food Inspector

Summarizing their arguments for the restoration of the position of city pure food inspector, which was recently merged into that of city bacteriologist, members of the City Federation of Clubs have given out the following scope of work and needs for food inspection:

We have for the work of a pure food inspector:

Dairies within five miles	85
Groceries, wholesale and retail	195
Meat markets	41
Fruit stands	22
Restaurants and cafes	70
Produce dealers	14
Confectionary stands	20
Bake shops	10
Creameries	2
Tamale makers	6
Vegetable wagons	52
Total places to inspect	513

Enough to keep one man busy, in fact, enough to keep many men busy to properly inspect.

In El Paso they have seven inspectors, in Corpus Christi four, besides the health officer, both smaller cities than Waco. San Antonio has a fegular set of books on health conditions and twelve inspectors of sanitation and food.

No physician is a food inspector unless he has had special training and that training is not given in medical schools, but is a regular course in all veterinary schools.

A regular physician and a bacteriologist may be a food inspector if he has taken such a course, but he nor anyone else can be if they simply take it up without training.

The government has 2378 veterinary inspectors and their assistants in its employ in various forms of meat inspection alone.

Some meat shops have inspected meat from Fort Worth and Dallas with the government stamp on, but many of our shops have not, and none of our slaughter houses inspect their meat before or after killing.

We are told that people do not care; that they send a child to any kind of a shop for "meat," pure or otherwise. This is true, but every man, woman and child is a valuable asset to a city, that is when they are well, and it is the city fathers' duty to see that the meat and food is clean and pure and thoroughly inspected, and to protect the ignorant and careless, for if they are sick, then we need additional hospitals and nurses and county physicians, all of which must be paid for.

No doctor can tell when a cow or any other animal is sick and then diagnose the trouble if they think it is sick, nor state why it should be removed from the herd. How can a doctor inspect an animal for slaughter when they do not know the diseases of animals nor how they should look after death?

There is hog cholera in Texas. Hogs die in Waco. Does any one know of what they die?

Charbon at Axtell last year, and the people tried to sell their cattle at once, without inspection, in Waco. They did not succeed, for we had a pure food inspector who was paid for part of his time at least.

The Italian government first discovered trichinosis in the American hogs and quarantined against them. There was a great uproar, but it caused government inspection of all animals exported. Are we not as valuable as the people of foreign countries, and should we be allowed to eat impure foods and diseased meat any more than the Italians?

When Dr. Abbott made his first inspection of milk in Waco, twenty-one dairies were using water to increase their profits. The next round-up found eleven, and the last, none. How long do you think the dairymen will continue to let their milk go unwatered if they know there is to be no inspections?

Will every woman in this town go personally out to their milkman's? Of course they will not, but if some of our women could see what the committees have seen they would stop taking any milk at all, in many cases.

Bernard Shaw says more babies die from impure milk than all the soldiers of England who have given their lives for their country, and still we hear of the horrors of this world war and nothing of the daily slaughter of the innocents in every town and city of this country, and Waco is just as bad. Can we persuade women to give in their name as willing to go in bodies to inspect just their own dairies?

Our late beloved Mrs. Darwin, who gave her life, from infection gotten in this work, never tried to do much in the courts. She said that most of the trouble was from ignorance and the lack of proper inspection. An inspector's work is not to haul up every poor culprit the first time to court, but to educate him in right doing, then if he proves ugly and careless, it is then time for the law.

Already the flies are getting thick in our fruit stands, the vegetable men are taking off their screens, the grocers are impertainent if you ask them to clean up, the dairies are sliding back and we feel the very great necessity of one or more on the job all the time, not just half of one man's time.

Let each woman ask to see the back of the bakery where she trades, the back of the meat shop where she trades, the back of the grocery, and she will see sights in many cases; in others they are as clean or cleaner than some private homes, and are a lesson in good housekeeping.

What are the conditions of the refrigerators where your husband takes his lunch in the downtown restaurants? Can every woman inspect these things? Of course not, and it is the duty of the city to see that they are inspected for her and kept in good condition.

Health Department Would Like a Little Information

Someone—it is not stated who it was—has removed from Austin street the new trash cans which had been provided by Commissioner W. H. Cockcroft of the health department, and has placed these cans on side streets.

As the cans were intended for use on the street where they were placed, Commissioner Cockcroft is at a loss to know who should have assumed the authority to move them. The cans are intended as a receptacle for the trash on Austin street, and are not to be removed to any other point.

These trash cans are made of tin and are of a sightly design.

INDIGESTION DYSPEPSIA GASTRITIS STOMACH ULCERS

Why Magnesia Should Be Taken After Every Meal.

A flushed face may be the first noticeable symptom of indigestion, but disregard this warning and soon there is unmistakable pain for indigestion is a progressive ailment. At first the symptoms may be relieved by pepsin, bismuth or soda but these things do not overcome the excessive acid in the stomach which is usually the underlying cause of the trouble, and consequently the acid accumulates and the occasional attack of indigestion becomes chronic dyspepsia. The dyspeptic is always particularly liable to gastritis and gastric ulcers in the stomach are only too often the forerunners of peritonitis, stomach cancers and death.

For this reason physicians place much importance upon keeping the stomach free from harmful acid and are continuously advising chronic dyspeptics as well as those who only suffer occasional attacks of indigestion to keep a little pure bisurated magnesia handy, and to take a teaspoonful in a little water after every meal. Practically any druggist can supply you with bisurated magnesia and all stomach sufferers are advised to get an ounce or so and give it a trial. Care should be taken to tell the druggist to give you magnesia in the bisurated form as other magnesia preparations while valuable as laxatives and mouth washes are not recommended for the correction of stomach acidity.

This Skin Peeler All the Rage in Society

There is a growing tendency among women of culture and fashion to pay more attention to hygienic means of preserving their charms. The advent of mercolized wax doubtless has been largely responsible for this. This remarkable substance produces complexions so natural in appearance, so magnetically beautiful, artificial complexions are no longer desired. Instead of "doctoring" an offensive skin, the skin is peeled off. The wax peels the skin so gradually, in such fine particles, no discomfort is experienced. The fresher, younger skin beneath, wholly in evidence within a week or two, is lily white, satiny soft and smooth. It's not a patched-over complexion, but a brand new one. That's why mercolized wax has become such a rage among society folk. The wax is put on nights like cold cream and washed off mornings. All druggists have it; one ounce will do.

Another hygienic treatment now much in favor is one to remove wrinkles, made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel. Used as a wash lotion it "acts like magic."

Women of Waco Make Plea For Return to Former Plan Of a Pure Food Inspector

Summarizing their arguments for the restoration of the position of city pure food inspector, which was recently merged into that of city bacteriologist, members of the City Federation of Clubs have given out the following scope of work and needs for food inspection:

We have for the work of a pure food inspector:

Dairies within five miles	85
Groceries, wholesale and retail	195
Meat markets	41
Fruit stands	22
Restaurants and cafes	70
Produce dealers	14
Confectionary stands	20
Bake shops	10
Creameries	2
Tamale makers	6
Vegetable wagons	52
Total places to inspect	513

In El Paso they have seven inspectors, in Corpus Christi four, besides the health officer, both smaller cities than Waco. San Antonio has a regular set of books on health conditions and twelve inspectors of sanitation and food.

No physician is a food inspector unless he has had special training and that training is not given in medical schools, but is a regular course in all veterinary schools.

A regular physician and a bacteriologist may be a food inspector if he has taken such a course, but he nor anyone else can be if they simply take it up without training.

The government has 2378 veterinary inspectors and their assistants in its employ in various forms of meat inspection alone.

Some meat shops have inspected meat from Fort Worth and Dallas with the government stamp on, but many of our shops have not, and none of our slaughter houses inspect their meat before or after killing.

We are told that people do not care; that they send a child to any kind of a shop for "meat," pure or otherwise. This is true, but every man, woman and child is a valuable asset to a city, that is when they are well, and it is the city fathers' duty to see that the meat and food is clean and pure and thoroughly inspected, and to protect the ignorant and careless, for if they are sick, then we need additional hospitals and nurses and county physicians, all of which must be paid for.

No doctor can tell when a cow or any other animal is sick and then diagnose the trouble if they think it is sick, nor state why it should be removed from the herd. How can a doctor inspect an animal for slaughter when they do not know the diseases of animals nor how they should look after death?

There is hog cholera in Texas. Hogs die in Waco. Does any one know of what they die?

Charbon at Axtell last year, and the people tried to sell their cattle at once, without inspection, in Waco. They did not succeed, for we had a pure food inspector who was paid for part of his time at least.

The Italian government first discovered trichinosis in the American hogs and quarantined against them. There was a great uproar, but it caused government inspection of all animals exported. Are we not as valuable as the people of foreign countries, and should we be allowed to eat impure foods and diseased meat any more than the Italians?

When Dr. Abbott made his first inspection of milk in Waco, twenty-one dairies were using water to increase their profits. The next round-up found eleven, and the last, none. How long do you think the dairymen will continue to let their milk go unwatered if they know there is to be no inspections?

Will every woman in this town go personally out to their milkman's? Of course they will not, but if some of our women could see what the committees have seen they would stop taking any milk at all, in many cases.

Bernard Shaw says more babies die from impure milk than all the soldiers of England who have given their lives for their country, and still we hear of the horrors of this world war and nothing of the daily slaughter of the innocents in every town and city of this country, and Waco is just as bad. Can we persuade women to give in their name as willing to go in bodies to inspect just their own dairies?

Our late beloved Mrs. Darwin, who gave her life, from infection gotten in this work, never tried to do much in the courts. She said that most of the trouble was from ignorance and the lack of proper inspection. An inspector's work is not to haul up every poor culprit the first time to court, but to educate him in right doing, then if he proves ugly and careless, it is then time for the law.

Already the flies are getting thick in our fruit stands, the vegetable men are taking off their screens, the grocers are impertainent if you ask them to clean up, the dairies are sliding back and we feel the very great necessity of one or more on the job all the time, not just half of one man's time.

Let each woman ask to see the back of the bakery where she trades, the back of the meat shop where she trades, the back of the grocery, and she will see sights in many cases; in others they are as clean or cleaner than some private homes, and are a lesson in good housekeeping.

What are the conditions of the refrigerators where your husband takes his lunch in the downtown restaurants? Can every woman inspect these things? Of course not, and it is the duty of the city to see that they are inspected for her and kept in good condition.

This Skin Peeler All the Rage in Society

There is a growing tendency among women of culture and fashion to pay more attention to hygienic means of preserving their charms. The advent of mercolized wax doubtless has been largely responsible for this. This remarkable substance produces complexions so natural in appearance, so magnetically beautiful, artificial complexions are no longer desired. Instead of "doctoring" an offensive skin, the skin is peeled off. The wax peels the skin so gradually, in such fine particles, no discomfort is experienced. The fresher, younger skin beneath, wholly in evidence within a week or two, is lily white, satiny soft and smooth. It's not a patched-over complexion, but a brand new one. That's why mercolized wax has become such a rage among society folk. The wax is put on nights like cold cream and washed off mornings. All druggists have it; one ounce will do.

Another hygienic treatment now much in favor is one to remove wrinkles, made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel. Used as a wash lotion it "acts like magic."

NATIONAL COMMITTEEMAN SENDS GREETINGS.

The call for the convention having been read by Secretary Kepple, a telegram was read by the chairman from Hon. H. L. Borden, national committeeman from Texas, now in New York, expressing regret that he could not be present, but saying he had seen Colonel Roosevelt and that the great Bull Mooser sent a message to the boys in Texas who had stood by him before, and assuring the boys he would not forget the boys or the principles of 1912. "His hat is in the ring, and the spring drive has commenced," said the message, and the cheers were loud and long.

The recommendation of the executive committee as to temporary offices was adopted, this making the following the temporary officers: F. M. Wright, Fort Worth, chairman; G. E. Kepple, Houston, secretary; E. M. Mulkey, Sherman, sargeant-at-arms.

The temporary roll attached showed that there had been elected to the convention 239 delegates, and that nearly half of these were present. A call of the sixteen congressional districts in Texas showed all districts represented except the Ninth and Tenth.

Chairman Wright, in taking the gavel, said he "would observe parliamentary rules, but that some precedents might be broken during the day." He asked co-operation of all present.

FULL COMMITTEE LIST IS APPOINTED.

J. E. Williams of Hamilton moved the appointment of committees on permanent organization, credentials, delegations and presidential electors, and resolutions, and when this was adopted the committees were selected by Chairman Wright as follows:

Permanent organization: Bart Marshall, Sherman; H. A. Baker, Midland; R. H. Crabb, Leonard; S. C. Kyle, San Antonio; F. W. Brooks, Beaumont; O. P. Maricle, Wichita Falls; W. J. Allen, Tyler; C. J. Crane, Palestine; D. C. Earnest, Dallas.

Credentials: C. A. Gray, Bonham; O. S. Hunter, Beaumont; K. N. Timolot, San Antonio; W. H. Nattai, Bellville; W. L. Boyd, Kemp; Earl Wharton, Houston; Sloan Simpson, Dallas; J. S. Dunlap, Dallas; O. E. Schow, Clifton.

Resolutions: M. Ethridge, Dallas; R. E. Hanney, Hempstead; Noah Allen, San Antonio; Harry Masterson, Houston; G. W. Ray, Fort Worth; W. P. Hallmark, Dublin; B. W. Fields, Greenville; G. W. Burkett, Sr., Palestine; A. C. Hamilton, Laredo.

Delegates and presidential electors: J. M. McCormick, Dallas; Joe E. Williams, Hamilton; T. G. Martin, Spofford; C. W. Hutchison, Fort Worth; C. N. Mulkey, Sherman; Rube Freeman, Corsicana; H. B. Wilson, Beaumont; K. N. Hapgood, Henrietta; W. E. Singleton, Jefferson.

The committee on credentials reported to the convention, after all committees had been out for an hour. The report of the committee asked that the roll previously presented be adopted, and this prevailed.

TEMPORARY ORGANIZATION IS MADE PERMANENT.

The temporary organization was made permanent, on recommendation of the committee on organization, and Chairman Wright accepted in a few words.

Judge Noah Allen of San Antonio was asked to make an address and did so, criticising the democratic policies of "watchful waiting and vexatious vacillation." He lauded Theodore Roosevelt and the progressive party amid cheers. He spoke of an "unhyphenated American citizenship," and said that a firm hand was needed at the helm. Preparedness of every kind was indorsed, the Mexican policy condemned and Theodore Roosevelt mentioned as the one man who could settle the Mexican trouble and other puzzling problems.

"Consul Hanna of the United States was publicly insulted, hooted and dragged through the streets of Mexico City and not a word was said by the administration; in fact, the degrading incident was suppressed," said a delegate in the audience, the utterance being applauded.

SPEECHES HIT WILSON HARD.

Continuing his address, Judge Allen referred to President Wilson as "a spineless, alleged president," and said the democratic party had broken down at every point. He also roasted the republican party in Texas for snubbing the progressives, and said if there was any harmonizing done or overtures made, the republicans would be the ones to do it. The speaker sharply criticised former President W. H. Taft and said that Taft had indorsed everything done by the would-be president, Wilson. The republicans would be forced to accept Roosevelt at Chicago unless all signs failed, and Roosevelt would sweep the country like a whirlwind. Loud cheers greeted his utterances.

Chairman F. M. Etheridge of the resolutions committee presented the report of that committee. All resolutions presented were adopted.

Hon. F. M. Wright,
Chairman Progressive State Convention:

Your committee on resolutions beg leave to submit the following:

Resolved, That we favor the election of Henry L. Borden of Houston as a member of the progressive national executive committee and that the delegates to the progressive national convention be and they are hereby instructed to vote for his election as such committeeman.

SYMPATHY AT DEATH OF CECIL LYON.

Inasmuch as it has pleased the Ruler of the universe to remove from our midst our former state chairman and national committeeman, General Cecil A. Lyon, therefore we, the progressives of Texas, in state convention assembled, desire to give public expression to our appreciation and high regard for his manly qualities, both as a citizen and a leader of men. It is our conscientious conviction that in his death our party has lost a wise and efficient leader, the state one of her foremost citizens, and the nation a worthy and loyal patriot.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be given to the press of the state, and also a copy sent to the family of the deceased.

RESOLUTIONS AGAINST DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION.

First: We hereby renew our faith in and allegiance to the principles of the progressive party as enunciated in its national platform of 1912.

Second: We condemn the weak and vacillating policy of the present administration which has put the people of the United States in a false and humiliating attitude before the world, and we are justly resentful. The administration's foreign policy, if it may be said to have had any fixed policy, and more especially in reference to Mexico, consist sof a succession of lamentable blunders.

Third: We heartily commend the principle and spirit of true Americanism and preparedness in fact, as contradistinguished from a "make-believe" preparedness for political purposes and the protection of American citizens and American rights at home and abroad, on land and on sea, as typified by that illustrious patriot, Theodore Roosevelt, whom we regard as the greatest living American today. The exigencies of this nation are such as to imperatively require the election of Theodore Roosevelt to the presidency as an essential to the restoration of the confidence of the American people and the respect to which this nation is entitled amongst the nations of the earth.

INDIGESTION DYSPEPSIA GASTRITIS STOMACH ULCERS

Why Magnesia Should Be Taken After Every Meal.

A flushed face may be the first noticeable symptom of indigestion, but disregard this warning and soon there is unmistakable pain for indigestion is a progressive ailment. At first the symptoms may be relieved by pepsin, bismuth or soda but these things do not overcome the excessive acid in the stomach which is usually the underlying cause of the trouble, and consequently the acid accumulates and the occasional attack of indigestion becomes chronic dyspepsia. The dyspepstic is always particularly liable to gastritis and gastric ulcers in the stomach are only too often the forerunners of peritonitis, stomach cancers and death.

For this reason physicians place much importance upon keeping the stomach free from harmful acid and are continuously advising chronic dyspeptics as well as those who only suffer occasional attacks of indigestion to keep a little pure bisurated magnesia handy, and to take a teaspoonful in a little water after every meal. Practically any druggist can supply you with bisurated magnesia and all stomach sufferers are advised to get an ounce or so and give it a trial. Care should be taken to tell the druggist to give you magnesia in the bisurated form as other magnesia preparations while valuable as laxatives and mouth washes are not recommended for the correction of stomach acidity.

Health Department Would Like a Little Information

Someone—it is not stated who it was—has removed from Austin street the new trash cans which had been provided by Commissioner W. H. Cockcroft of the health department, and has placed these cans on side streets.

As the cans were intended for use on the street where they were placed, Commissioner Cockcroft is at a loss to know who should have assumed the authority to move them. The cans are intended as a receptacle for the trash on Austin street, and are not to be removed to any other point.

These trash cans are made of tin and are of a sightly design.

Will Verify Statement

Mr. Philip Gelber, 545 Bushwick Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., will verify to anyone interested his endorsement of Fruitola and Traxo. In writing to the Pinus laboratories Mr. Gelber says:

"I suffered with gall-stones seven years—tried various remedies without satisfactory result—was induced to try Fruitola and Traxo. Glad to say I am now feeling better than at any time for years and heartily recommend Fruitola and Traxo.

Fruitola acts on the intestinal organs as a powerful lubricant—softening the congested masses, disintegrating the hardened particles that cause so much suffering and expelling the accumulation with almost instant relief. Traxo is a tonic-alterative acting on the liver and stomach, and is especially recommended in connection with Fruitola to build up and restore the weakened run-down system.

For the convenience of the public, arrangements have been made to supply Fruitola and Traxo through representative druggists. In Waco they can be obtained at W. B. Morrison's Drug Co.

FULL ITINERARY ON TRADE TRIP THURS.

With the longest and speediest itinerary of the season, Chairman W. V. Crawford said last night that the Smithville trade trip tomorrow ought to draw an even larger crowd than the record party on the initial Comanche excursion. The chairman made an especial plea for a large representation from the officers and directors of the Y. M. B. L., under whose auspices the trips are given.

Mr. Crawford said that such towns as Taylor, Elgin, Holland, Smithville, as well as a number of enterprising smaller towns, make the trip very appealing.

Twenty-one towns will be covered on the trip. By making fast time, the trippers are expected to return at 10:15 p. m.

More Than 100 Each Day Enter Flower Contest

The entries continue to come into the flower garden contest at the rate of more than 100 per day. Those who were not educated as to the importance of this movement for Waco are very rapidly becoming so, and by the time the contest is over, June 1st, the Rotarians will have covered themselves with glory and will have set a precedent for future work which will encourage others to continued efforts each year. Some children who are sending in the filled-out blanks are failing to give us any clue as to who sent them. It is necessary that each child sending in slips shall sign his own name at the top or bottom of the slip or on the back of same, as we are ever eager to give credit to those making an effort to help spread the gospel of aesthetics, esjecially as pertaining to flowers. Following is a partial list of yesterday's entries:

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

With liabilities of $3,197.25 and assets of only $255, M. B. Shelton, a Belton merchant, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the federal court Tuesday morning. Of the $255 he claims $250 exempt.

Rev. John J. Hamilton, pastor of the Scandinavian Methodist Episcopal church, left yesterday for a trip to the north and east to be gone until about the middle of June. He will visit at Ansonia, Conn., and Hartford, where he will attend a Sunday school convention on the 29th and 30th of May. His itinerary also includes Boston, Lowell and New York, at which places he will speak.

The following installations of fire boxes was yesterday announced by Fire Chief Bauerle: No. 261, South End fire station; No. 233, Twenty-second and Sanger; No. 221, Providence Sanitarium. Box No. 26, which was located at South End station, was moved to Fourth and Ivy streets.

Only one marriage license was issued yesterday, that of C. C. Costley and Miss Josie Oxlquist.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock the Dallas bound interurban of the Southern Traction company carried the Dallas delegation of the progressive party, their car having on it a big streamer with the name "Roosevelt" on the side. This was the name which loomed large in the convention yesterday.

The second trade trip comes tomorrow, and it will be to Smithville, where everybody always has a great time; the intermediate points are likewise ever ready to extend the hand of welcome.

M. Falkner is demonstrating what can be done with blackberries in this section, and his splendid success in that direction ought to encourage others. He finds a ready market for his fine and luscious berries.

Riding over the prairies near Waco persons familiar with the flora of this section are impressed with the fact that there are more dandelions this year than for many years past. The season appears to have been specially favorable for this beautiful yellow flower, and they are to be seen in large numbers all about, even in the city limits on the open spaces.

With the state conventions ended it is expected that politics will loom more largely on the horizon until the July primaries see the realization of the hopes of some and the disappointment of others. Waco is usually quite a little center on matters political, as well as along other lines, and it is thought that there will be plenty of interest here in the developments as they work out.

There has been considerable minor illness in Waco in the past three weeks, caused partly, it is thought, by the too free use of the new vegetables which are now adorning the tables of the average resident. There has not been much serious sickness.

A telephone message was received at the city health department yesterday from a resident asking that someone be sent out to sprinkle lime under a house. The party was informed that the city did not do things of that character, but that the lime could be found in the city and the party could attend to it personally. Many calls of this kind come in to the department, some of them being even more unusual than this one.

Rev. John R. Morris, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, has been elected an honorary member and the chaplain of the Katy Welfare league. He opens and closes the meeting with prayer, as was done Monday night at the regular meeting. Rev. Mr. Morris appreciates very highly the honor conferred upon him by the railroad boys, who are prime favorites with him.

Attention is called to the fact that the trash cans on the streets are receptacles for paper, banana peels, old letters and other things which are often thrown down carelessly by many. The banana peels are specially mischievous when dropped on the streets, and often cause serious accidents.

The Virginia creeper which has been trained up on the east wall of the city hall have made that building look very cool and inviting, especially the eastern part of it. The ornamentation of brick walls of public buildings in this manner is getting more popular in Waco.

Attention Master Masons.

Waco Lodge No. 92, A. F. & A. M., will confer the Master Degree at 7:45 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to visiting brethren.

UGH! CALOMEL IS HORRIBLE! IT SHOCKS YOUR LIVER, IF BILIOUS

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not sallvate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

Baylor Seniors Hold Farewell Regular Class Meeting

The seniors of Baylor university held their last regular class meeting before the close of school last night in Carroll chapel. The first thing that was taken up was a motion to have the program before the business. The motion carried and Miss Nellie Lee Hill opened the program with a reading. Miss Hill is one of the students in the department of expression and is an excellent reader. The next number was a vocal solo by Miss Verna Lee Clark. Miss Clark came to Baylor this year and entered the senior class. Her music has helped to make many of the meetings more joyful, and she always responded liberally to the requests of the program committee. As one of the members of the male quartet was delayed, the business was taken up and disposed of before the program was continued. The quartet, composed of J. W. Smith, R. L. Grogan, R. E. Grogan and P. P. Brewster, then sang three songs.

The last number on the program was a piano solo by Joseph M. Evans, to whom the seniors dedicated the Round-Up at a meeting during the fall term. Two short addresses, one by Prof. J. L. Kesler, dean of the college, and the other by Dr. A. J. Armstrong, head of the English department, followed the program. As an evidence of the seniors' appreciation of the work of these two men the class sang the Baylor song.

The meeting was quite a joyous affair and after the close of the meeting punch was served by the young women and a social hour was spent.

Sokol Athletic Leader Will Spend Two Days in This City

A letter has been received by Deputy County Clerk Victor Bunato telling of the coming to Waco today of Frank Rendle of Dallas, state organizer of the Bohemian Sokols, an athletic association which is absolutely non-sectarian and whose purposes are purely athletic.

Mr. Rendle comes to Waco in the interest of the organization, which is fifty strong in this city, and it is hoped that his visit will further the cause of athletics here. The meetings here will be held at the Tietz hotel tonight and Thursday night, and it is hoped to get out a large attendance at each of these meetings. The head office of the southern district of the Bohemian Sokols is at Dallas, and Texas is therefore in the limelight in this respect.

The motto of the organization is quite appropriate and impressive—"Truth, strength, beauty and liberty," and further, "In our mind, our country; in our hearts, bravery; in our limbs, strength." Organizer Frank Rendle will go from Waco to Granger, then to Houston and on to other points in Texas.

Interest Continues in N. Waco Revival

Interest in the revival being conducted by Rev. J. F. Ghronley at the North Waco Christian church continues unabated. Another addition to the church was reported last night.

At present the street force is largely engaged in making repairs incident to the heavy rains recently.

Will Verify Statement

Mr. Philip Gelber, 545 Bushwick Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., will verify to anyone interested his endorsement of Fruitola and Traxo. In writing to the Pinus laboratories Mr. Gelber says:

"I suffered with gall-stones seven years—tried various remedies without satisfactory result—was induced to try Fruitola and Traxo. Glad to say I am now feeling better than at any time for years and heartily recommend Fruitola and Traxo.

Fruitola acts on the intestinal organs as a powerful lubricant—softening the congested masses, disintegrating the hardened particles that cause so much suffering and expelling the accumulation with almost instant relief. Traxo is a tonic-alterative acting on the liver and stomach, and is especially recommended in connection with Fruitola to build up and restore the weakened run-down system.

For the convenience of the public, arrangements have been made to supply Fruitola and Traxo through representative druggists. In Waco they can be obtained at W. B. Morrison's Drug Co.

CITY NEWS BRIEFS

With liabilities of $3,197.25 and assets of only $255, M. B. Shelton, a Belton merchant, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the federal court Tuesday morning. Of the $255 he claims $250 exempt.

Rev. John J. Hamilton, pastor of the Scandinavian Methodist Episcopal church, left yesterday for a trip to the north and east to be gone until about the middle of June. He will visit at Ansonia, Conn., and Hartford, where he will attend a Sunday school convention on the 29th and 30th of May. His itinerary also includes Boston, Lowell and New York, at which places he will speak.

The following installations of fire boxes was yesterday announced by Fire Chief Bauerle: No. 261, South End fire station; No. 233, Twenty-second and Sanger; No. 221, Providence Sanitarium. Box No. 26, which was located at South End station, was moved to Fourth and Ivy streets.

Only one marriage license was issued yesterday, that of C. C. Costley and Miss Josie Oxlquist.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock the Dallas bound interurban of the Southern Traction company carried the Dallas delegation of the progressive party, their car having on it a big streamer with the name "Roosevelt" on the side. This was the name which loomed large in the convention yesterday.

The second trade trip comes tomorrow, and it will be to Smithville, where everybody always has a great time; the intermediate points are likewise ever ready to extend the hand of welcome.

M. Falkner is demonstrating what can be done with blackberries in this section, and his splendid success in that direction ought to encourage others. He finds a ready market for his fine and luscious berries.

Riding over the prairies near Waco persons familiar with the flora of this section are impressed with the fact that there are more dandelions this year than for many years past. The season appears to have been specially favorable for this beautiful yellow flower, and they are to be seen in large numbers all about, even in the city limits on the open spaces.

With the state conventions ended it is expected that politics will loom more largely on the horizon until the July primaries see the realization of the hopes of some and the disappointment of others. Waco is usually quite a little center on matters political, as well as along other lines, and it is thought that there will be plenty of interest here in the developments as they work out.

There has been considerable minor illness in Waco in the past three weeks, caused partly, it is thought, by the too free use of the new vegetables which are now adorning the tables of the average resident. There has not been much serious sickness.

A telephone message was received at the city health department yesterday from a resident asking that someone be sent out to sprinkle lime under a house. The party was informed that the city did not do things of that character, but that the lime could be found in the city and the party could attend to it personally. Many calls of this kind come in to the department, some of them being even more unusual than this one.

Rev. John R. Morris, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, has been elected an honorary member and the chaplain of the Katy Welfare league. He opens and closes the meeting with prayer, as was done Monday night at the regular meeting. Rev. Mr. Morris appreciates very highly the honor conferred upon him by the railroad boys, who are prime favorites with him.

Attention is called to the fact that the trash cans on the streets are receptacles for paper, banana peels, old letters and other things which are often thrown down carelessly by many. The banana peels are specially mischievous when dropped on the streets, and often cause serious accidents.

The Virginia creeper which has been trained up on the east wall of the city hall have made that building look very cool and inviting, especially the eastern part of it. The ornamentation of brick walls of public buildings in this manner is getting more popular in Waco.

Attention Master Masons.

Waco Lodge No. 92, A. F. & A. M., will confer the Master Degree at 7:45 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to visiting brethren.

OSCAR C. GRIFFIN, W. M.
W. F. QUEBE, Secretary.

FULL ITINERARY ON TRADE TRIP THURS.

With the longest and speediest itinerary of the season, Chairman W. V. Crawford said last night that the Smithville trade trip tomorrow ought to draw an even larger crowd than the record party on the initial Comanche excursion. The chairman made an especial plea for a large representation from the officers and directors of the Y. M. B. L., under whose auspices the trips are given.

Mr. Crawford said that such towns as Taylor, Elgin, Holland, Smithville, as well as a number of enterprising smaller towns, make the trip very appealing.

Twenty-one towns will be covered on the trip. By making fast time, the trippers are expected to return at 10:15 p. m.

More Than 100 Each Day Enter Flower Contest

The entries continue to come into the flower garden contest at the rate of more than 100 per day. Those who were not educated as to the importance of this movement for Waco are very rapidly becoming so, and by the time the contest is over, June 1st, the Rotarians will have covered themselves with glory and will have set a precedent for future work which will encourage others to continued efforts each year. Some children who are sending in the filled-out blanks are failing to give us any clue as to who sent them. It is necessary that each child sending in slips shall sign his own name at the top or bottom of the slip or on the back of same, as we are ever eager to give credit to those making an effort to help spread the gospel of aesthetics, esjecially as pertaining to flowers. Following is a partial list of yesterday's entries:

Baylor Seniors Hold Farewell Regular Class Meeting

The seniors of Baylor university held their last regular class meeting before the close of school last night in Carroll chapel. The first thing that was taken up was a motion to have the program before the business. The motion carried and Miss Nellie Lee Hill opened the program with a reading. Miss Hill is one of the students in the department of expression and is an excellent reader. The next number was a vocal solo by Miss Verna Lee Clark. Miss Clark came to Baylor this year and entered the senior class. Her music has helped to make many of the meetings more joyful, and she always responded liberally to the requests of the program committee. As one of the members of the male quartet was delayed, the business was taken up and disposed of before the program was continued. The quartet, composed of J. W. Smith, R. L. Grogan, R. E. Grogan and P. P. Brewster, then sang three songs.

UGH! CALOMEL IS HORRIBLE! IT SHOCKS YOUR LIVER, IF BILIOUS

Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work.

Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with sour bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight.

Here's my guarantee—Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel fine and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Dodson's Liver Tone is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick.

I guarantee that one spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and they like its pleasant taste.

THE JOY OF MOTHERHOOD

Words of Encouragement to Childless Women.

Motherhood is woman's natural destiny, but many women are denied the happiness of children simply because of some curable derangement.

Among the many triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is its marvelous power to overcome such derangements, as evidenced by the following letter:—

Worcester, Mass.—"I suffered from female ills, and was advised to have an operation, but a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and who has six children, told me to try it. It has helped me so much that I am now well and have a baby boy who is the picture of health, and I thank the Vegetable Compound for my restoration to health." —Mrs. BERT GARVEY, 20 Hacker St., Worcester, Mass.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice—it will be confidential.

He'll Be Here Quite A While

—but you need not worry, Mrs. Morehouse. He's a wise man and had the forethought to take out an ÆTNA ACCIDENT AND HEALTH POLICY.

That means my operating fee will be paid and $50 a week—payable monthly—will be yours as long as he's here. After that, $25 a week until he's well and strong again. That ought to lighten the load.

We've had some pretty pitiful cases in this hospital—men brought here for weeks at a time without income of any sort. Their wives have had to work, their children have been kept from school in order that they might earn a few extra pennies to keep body and soul together.

And all this hardship could have been avoided, for it costs very little to

CHAMBER COMMERCE TRAFFIC MAN HAS BEGUN HIS DUTIES

The new commissioner of transportation for the Chamber of Commerce, H. D. Driscoll, arrived Monday, accompanied by his family, and has already begun his duties.

He is well equipped for the work, as it has been his specialty for the last ten years. He left the position of commissioner of the Topeka Traffic association, which he had occupied for four years, to come here. The reason that he came to Waco, he said, was that he considered this the best location in the state, because of its unlimited possibilities for growth and expansion.

"I think that Waco has a great future before it," he declared. "If I did not think so I would never have come here. The business district equals that of many cities that boast of 100,000 population. It is surpassed by few in its office buildings and hotels. I was here about ten years ago," he continued, "and at that time Waco was not nearly so large as she is now. I returned several months ago and was surprised to see that remarkable improvements had taken place since my last visit. It was so thoroughly changed that I did not know it. All Waco should be proud of Cameron park, the Amicable building and your commodious Raleigh hotel, and the other great institutions that have been built recently. I knew what I was doing when I came here. I came for the future."

Mr. Driscoll asserted that the railroads are not antagonistic to the traffic organizations, if they are open and fair in their dealings with them. It has been his experience, he said, that the railroads have recommended that companies join a traffic association in order that the difficulties might be regulated by the commissioner of the association with the least possible expense and loss of time to all concerned.

The work of a traffic commissioner for a chamber of commerce, he declared to be unlimited, as the transportation affairs of the firms that are members are often put in the hands of the commissioner. The ramifications are without number and the work that can be done is limited only by the energy and time of the individual.

"Help the Man; Not Help Him Out of Jail"

"I have observed a rather singular thing in connection with men who get into trouble, some of whom are bad characters and known to be such," said Chief Detective R. H. Hall yesterday.

"These men never seem able to raise any money with which to get into a legitimate business in case they wanted to do such a thing, not even enough to buy a horse or a little stand of some kind where they could employ themselves usefully, and yet the moment that one of them gets into the clutches of the law for some offense, there is a big change in the situation. Men who would not have let them have a dollar for a purpose considered legitimate, or to help them get started in something, will stand for their fines, go on their bonds, agree to pay the lawyer's fee where a defense is necessary, and do other things costing quite a bit of money. It seems to me that the help extended these people ought to be based on something besides an effort to keep them out of jail or away from the clutches of the law after the trouble has actually come."

Pioneer Women of Lampasas County Visit Waco

Two very interesting personages have been visiting in Waco recently from Lampasas county, being old residents of that county.

These are Mrs. L. W. McCrea and Mrs. Mary F. Supple of McCreaville, Lampasas county. Mrs. McCrea, who was a Miss Burleson before her marriage, and Mrs. Supple, who was a Miss McCrea, have lived in Lampasas county since long before the Civil war and have seen that country transformed into its present highly desirable condition. The Indians were quite numerous when they went to that section, and they can recall many raids which were made after they moved there. The hardships endured by the early settlers are also recalled vividly by them. Mrs. Supple's sister, Julia McCrea, married the first child born in Lampasas county after he reached man's estate, this being Neil McAnelly of Lometa, whose father settled the famous McAnelly's Bend on the Colorado river.

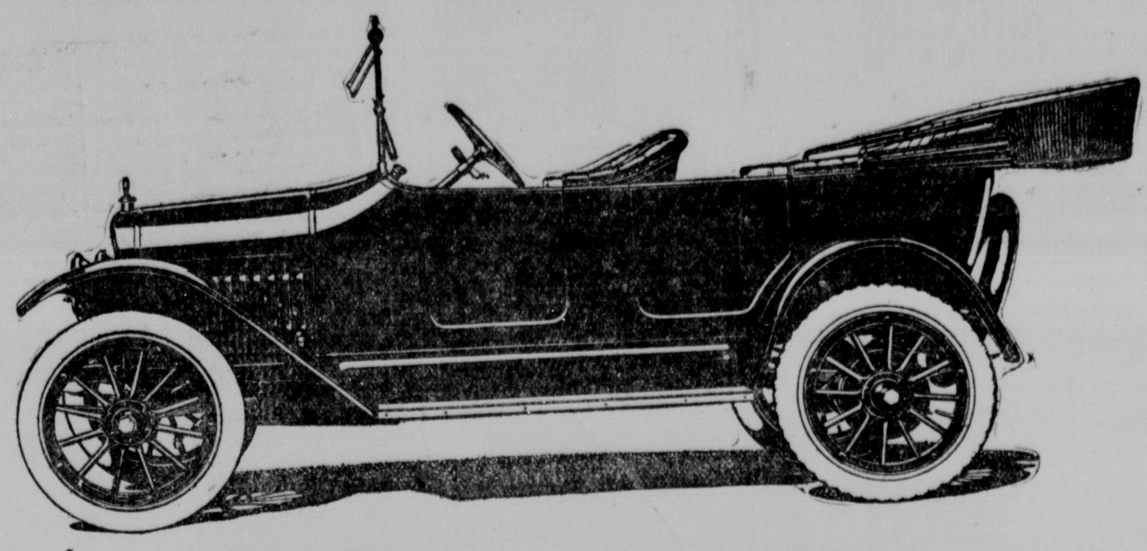

Mrs. McCrea and Mrs. Supple have a number of relatives here and are enjoying their stay. It is a large debt of gratitude that the public of today owes to the old settlers of this wonderful land, who carved the way for the splendid and rapidly advancing civilization of the present.

Waco Party Will Inspect Encampment Grounds on Coast

Acting on an invitation from the Port O'Connor officials, and in order to inspect the new grounds on which the annual state encampments of the Epworth league will be held, a committee last night left Waco over the M., K. & T. railroad for the point mentioned, and will carefully inspect the new place for holding the gatherings of the Epworth league.

In the party were Rev. John R. Morris, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist church; S. R. Hankins, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and C. C. Lewis, secretary of the Waco Merchants' association. With these men went W. M. Carter, representing the Gulf Coast Lines and the Port O'Connor townsite people. The new location, said Mr. Carter yesterday, is an ideal one, and he gave it as his opinion that the visitors would be well pleased with the inspection.

The annual encampment was formerly held at Corpus Christi, but it was moved from this place on account of the opening of a street which shut off the encampment site from the beach.

What Do You Know About The Maxwell Car?

THIS is the time of the year when more people are considering the question of "what car to buy" than at any other time of the year.

This community has its full share of people who will soon be driving their first car or a new car to replace the old one.

Now, we know that we are going to sell Maxwell Cars to a great many of these people—depending upon how many we are able to acquaint with the merits of the Maxwell.

The generous value offered in the car is so evident—its past record is so full of good performance—owners speak so well of it—that when the buyer knows these things, he is eager to buy a Maxwell.

In order to tell as many people as possible about the merits of the Maxwell Car we are going to spend a lot of money in the next few weeks in this paper advertising Maxwell merits to those who do not know them.

The reason—we want to sell as many Maxwells as possible this season. Our future allotments will depend upon how many Maxwells we sell now.

You may know that the Maxwell market is a buyer's market, not a seller's market—broadly speaking. The demand for Maxwells the country over is greater than the supply.

For this reason cars are allotted to dealers by the factory according to the size of the dealer's business.

We want to make a showing and be in a position to get a generous allotment of Maxwells hereafter. Because the more Maxwells are sold in any community, the greater is the future demand. We realize the opportunity to do an ever-increasing Maxwell business.

This is only the first of the several messages we are going to print—a few days apart—concerning the Maxwell Car. But we don't expect to be able to adequately present Maxwell merits in printed words alone.

If you are one who is going to buy a new car you will find it decidedly to your advantage to find out all you can about the Maxwell before you place your order.

Come in and talk it over with us and let us demonstrate the car to you. Then, don't take our word alone, but ask those who now own Maxwells.

Get "posted" about the Maxwell and you will realize more satisfaction and get more "value received" for your motor car money than ever before.

And we are just as willing to have you investigate other cars just as fully as you do ours. The Maxwell will not suffer by the comparison.

Mayor Dollins Is Invited to Attend Civic Conference

Inviting the mayor of Waco to attend the eighth annual National Conference on City Planning, a letter of cordial character has been received by Mayor Dollins of Waco from Harry L. Davis, mayor of Cleveland, Ohio.

It is stated in the letter that these conferences have come to be highly practical and result-getting and are now down on a basis where they are getting actual benefits for the people of the cities. At first they were somewhat theoretical, but it is claimed that they have now reached a working basis and are doing great good.

Mayor Dollins is informed that the city planning conventions are now attended by city engineers, architects, landscape artists, park commissioners and others who have to do actively with municipal problems, and also by students of sociological matters, all exchanging ideas, to the mutual help of all concerned.

It is not known whether any one from Waco will attend the convention in question.

A letter has also been received by Mayor Dollins from New York relating to the problems of governmental and municipal purchasing matters.

A lot of questions are asked, these questions going out, of course, to thousands of mayors over the country, and when the replies are all in a booklet will be published on the subject, made up largely from the data received.

Local Bankers Will Attend Conference at Dallas

Some of the Waco bankers will attend the conference which is to be held in Dallas today relative to the operations of the proposed clearing house for the regional banks of this section.

While a few of the Waco bankers seem to think the matter may work out in a fairly satisfactory manner, most of them appear doubtful about the propriety of taking the step, claiming that it will be too much centralization and will practically take the exchange out of the smaller member banks, causing some of these member banks, even in the cities, to withdraw from the regional bank plan.

The order has already gone out for the establishment of the clearing house, as indicated previously in these columns, but it was thought that it would do no harm, and might do some good, to meet and talk over all phases of the proposition. Hence the meeting in Dallas today of the bankers.

GEORGE SAGE ADMINISTERS THE SAME DOSE TO BUFFS AS DID EDDIE DONALDS.

GILT-EDGED SUPPORT BY NAVS

Hardy's Big Twirler Only Allowed Three Hits, Two in the Last Inning.

Special to the Morning News.

Houston, May 23.—George Sage and the clean fielding team behind him sent the Buffs down in the second straight defeat of the series today, by the same score as Eddie Donalds administered yesterday, 2 to 0.

Houston's fielding was not so clean, and it was on Northen's muff that the first Waco run was scored. After two were down in the third, Coyle doubled to deep center. Conwell drove a hard one to Northen, which the right fielder caught as he came into it on the run, then dropped. Coyle had started to run with the crack of the bat, and scored easily.

Jenkins gave his teammates a wide open chance to tie it up in the last half of the same inning, when he came up second and tripled to the center field fence. Tillman rolled an easy one to Tanner, who held Jenkins on third and threw the runner out, and Lee grounded to Conwell for the third out.

Waco scored again in the ninth, when Conwell doubled, went to third on James' infield out, and scored on the squeeze, Tanner bunting along first base line.

After two were down in the ninth for the Buffs, Seitz and Frierson started a belated rally with two singles. Newnam forced Frierson at second for the final out. Score:

WAHOO SAM ABOUT TO QUIT THE GAME?

Sam Crawford.

The news that Hughie Jennings plans to use Sam Crawford only as a pinch hitter henceforth will alarm the many friends of Wahoo Sam, who hope he is not nearing the close of his career. There can be no doubt, however, that Crawford's hitting has fallen off and that he has not now the strength in his legs he had in seasons past.

Baylor Sophomores Defeat Freshmen

The second year men at Baylor took the annual Fish-Soph baseball game yesterday afternoon by a score of 10 to 8. The game was full of exciting jokes and exceedingly wise plays, as is always found in the class games. The Fish started it off by getting a lead of three runs on the Sophs, but after many changes the run was overtaken, and then it was nip and tuck for some time.

The Freshmen got three hits off R. Sanderford and one off Denton. Denton started the game but was a little wild and Roy Sanderford took the box. The Sophs got five hits off Rickman, Cobb and Fullbright, the twirlers for the first-year men.

In the sixth the game stood 8 to 7 in favor of the Freshmen and Fullbright took the mound. The Sophs made one run, tying the score and then filled the bases. Fullbright walked two men, thereby forcing in a couple of tallies and making the score 10 to 8 in favor of the Sophs.

The game was called in the seventh inning by agreement.

ROTAN AND HUBBY TIE FOR LOW SCORE

TWO WACOANS LEAD PLAY IN SOUTHERN GOLF QUALIFYING ROUND.

Lakewood Country Club of Dallas Wins Team Match, Huaco Club Third.

Dallas, May 23.—The younger golf players were uniformly the prey of the steadier arms and keener vision of the "old masters" in the qualifying rounds of the fifteenth annual tournament of the Southern Golf association which opened on the links of the Dallas Country club today and will continue five days.

Low scores of the day were made by George V. Rotan and C. M. Hubby, both of Waco, who tied at 76.

One of the sensational features of the day came when Commodore Bryan Heard of Houston defeated Perry Adair, the 17-year-old crack player from Atlanta, 78 to 83. Heard is 64 years old.

The Lakewood Country club of Dallas won the team match with a total score of 334, the Dallas Country club running second with 338 and the Huaco club of Waco third with 344.

Except for a brisk wind, weather conditions were ideal and the course in good shape. Only qualifying rounds were played oday.

There were 140 competitors in the medal play. The par for the course is 78. Ninety-four score qualified for the first flight, championship division. Five players who made 94 were T. E. Hubby, Waco, T. E. Brandiff of Oklahoma City, F. F. Sliney of Dallas, R. E. Finnerty of Oklahoma City and H. C. Bramley of Dallas.

In drawing for the championship division Bramley lost and went into the second division, the qualifying score for which is 98. H. M. Bennett of Little Rock and P. G. Claiborne of Dallas went into the first flight of the second division with this score. Following are the qualifying scores in the first flight of the championship division, scoring below 94:

Lakewood Country Club, Dallas—C. N. Aldredge 86, J. W. Hurst 86, C. H. Munger 77, L. R. Munger 85.

Postoffice Team Defeats Abbott

In a fast game of baseball at Abbott, the Postoffice team from Waco defeated the Abbott team by a score of 4 to 1. The feature of the game was the pitching of Erwin for the postoffice club. GEORGE SAGE ADMINISTERS THE SAME DOSE TO BUFFS AS DID EDDIE DONALDS.

GILT-EDGED SUPPORT BY NAVS

Hardy's Big Twirler Only Allowed Three Hits, Two in the Last Inning.

Special to the Morning News.

Houston, May 23.—George Sage and the clean fielding team behind him sent the Buffs down in the second straight defeat of the series today, by the same score as Eddie Donalds administered yesterday, 2 to 0.

Houston's fielding was not so clean, and it was on Northen's muff that the first Waco run was scored. After two were down in the third, Coyle doubled to deep center. Conwell drove a hard one to Northen, which the right fielder caught as he came into it on the run, then dropped. Coyle had started to run with the crack of the bat, and scored easily.

Jenkins gave his teammates a wide open chance to tie it up in the last half of the same inning, when he came up second and tripled to the center field fence. Tillman rolled an easy one to Tanner, who held Jenkins on third and threw the runner out, and Lee grounded to Conwell for the third out.

Waco scored again in the ninth, when Conwell doubled, went to third on James' infield out, and scored on the squeeze, Tanner bunting along first base line.

After two were down in the ninth for the Buffs, Seitz and Frierson started a belated rally with two singles. Newnam forced Frierson at second for the final out. Score:

The news that Hughie Jennings plans to use Sam Crawford only as a pinch hitter henceforth will alarm the many friends of Wahoo Sam, who hope he is not nearing the close of his career. There can be no doubt, however, that Crawford's hitting has fallen off and that he has not now the strength in his legs he had in seasons past.

Baylor Sophomores Defeat Freshmen

The second year men at Baylor took the annual Fish-Soph baseball game yesterday afternoon by a score of 10 to 8. The game was full of exciting jokes and exceedingly wise plays, as is always found in the class games. The Fish started it off by getting a lead of three runs on the Sophs, but after many changes the run was overtaken, and then it was nip and tuck for some time.

The Freshmen got three hits off R. Sanderford and one off Denton. Denton started the game but was a little wild and Roy Sanderford took the box. The Sophs got five hits off Rickman, Cobb and Fullbright, the twirlers for the first-year men.

In the sixth the game stood 8 to 7 in favor of the Freshmen and Fullbright took the mound. The Sophs made one run, tying the score and then filled the bases. Fullbright walked two men, thereby forcing in a couple of tallies and making the score 10 to 8 in favor of the Sophs.

The game was called in the seventh inning by agreement.

ROTAN AND HUBBY TIE FOR LOW SCORE

TWO WACOANS LEAD PLAY IN SOUTHERN GOLF QUALIFYING ROUND.

Lakewood Country Club of Dallas Wins Team Match, Huaco Club Third.

Dallas, May 23.—The younger golf players were uniformly the prey of the steadier arms and keener vision of the "old masters" in the qualifying rounds of the fifteenth annual tournament of the Southern Golf association which opened on the links of the Dallas Country club today and will continue five days.

Low scores of the day were made by George V. Rotan and C. M. Hubby, both of Waco, who tied at 76.

One of the sensational features of the day came when Commodore Bryan Heard of Houston defeated Perry Adair, the 17-year-old crack player from Atlanta, 78 to 83. Heard is 64 years old.

The Lakewood Country club of Dallas won the team match with a total score of 334, the Dallas Country club running second with 338 and the Huaco club of Waco third with 344.

Except for a brisk wind, weather conditions were ideal and the course in good shape. Only qualifying rounds were played oday.

There were 140 competitors in the medal play. The par for the course is 78. Ninety-four score qualified for the first flight, championship division. Five players who made 94 were T. E. Hubby, Waco, T. E. Brandiff of Oklahoma City, F. P. Slinev of Dallas, R. E. Finnerty of Oklahoma City and H. C. Bramley of Dallas.

In drawing for the championship division Bramley lost and went into the second division, the qualifying score for which is 98. H. M. Bennett of Little Rock and P. G. Claiborne of Dallas went into the first flight of the second division with this score. Following are the qualifying scores in the first flight of the championship division, scoring below 94:

Lakewood Country Club, Dallas—C. N. Aldredge 86, J. W. Hurst 86, C. H. Munger 77, L. R. Munger 85.

Dallas Country club—C. L. Dexter 82, John Puterbaugh 80, Hugh Halsell 86, H. L. Edwards 90.

Afternoon Frocks of Georgette Crepe Lavishly Trimmed With Ribbon Have Been Adopted as a Substitute for Chiffon Frocks.

New York, May 23.—The mills have succeeded beyond their expectations in the perfecting of the fabric known as Georgette crepe. It is now inclusively, instead of exclusively, accepted. The public has been wary of any thin fabric under the name of crepe because of its recent experience with weaves that lend themselves to that name. There were seasons in which these fabrics, highly priced, were readily bought up, but after having been weighed and found wanting, not in the balance, but in the laundry, women turned from them with irritation.

The shops admitted that they were heavy losers through the failure of these weaves, because so many garments were returned by good customers and afterward considered as wastage. Their buyers thereafter accepted these new weaves gingerly and without enthusiasm.

Georgette crepe, even with all its loveliness of texture and service, fell under suspicion. It came out two seasons ago for blouses, at a time when the transparent waist that gave the appearance of merely a film of cloth drawn over the body was at the height of fashion. Chiffon cloth and net were the materials chosen to carry out this idea of a wisp of a blouse, but Georgette crepe offered more durability, and when it was found that its serviceability measured up to its loveliness, it was eagerly received by the women who were always looking for new things.

REACHED UP.
WARD TO FROCKS.

After the fabric gave two seasons of service in the way of blouses it reached upward as a rival to chiffon for afternoon frocks. Several admirable gowns have been recently worn that prove that this weave of crepe had a right to remain among the smart fabrics.

It is in Pale Champagne With Rosettes of Self-Colored Ribbon. The Bodice is Over Flesh-Colored Satin and Trimmed with Silver Lace.

There is still an immense amount of chiffon—or chiffon cloth as it really is—used for morning and afternoon frocks, but women feel that Georgette crepe presents a newer net. Now and then it is combined with crepe de chine, which has been revived to meet the demand for excessively thin materials that will lend themselves to the pleats and furbelows and ruffles of the hour.

Again, there are gowns in which the combination of Georgette crepe and satin is used, but several smartly dressed women are discarding the other materials and making a whole frock of crepe. The sketch shows such a gown which was made for an afternoon wedding.

The extra-short skirt is a succession of bands, and these are methodically touched up at the side with large rosettes of ribbon. The bodice is mounted over flesh colored satin and the lower part of it is entirely of silver lace. The crepe itself is formed like a small Zouave jacket and the armholes of this extended a little over the long, small sleeves of crepe which flare over the hand to the knuckles and are slashed at each side and lined with silver lace at the edges. The belt has its rosette of ribbon and two long, ornamental ends that hang over the skirt.

BRILLIANCY IN GIRDLES.

The manner in which the clever dressmakers are introducing brilliancy through girdles is significant. The idea should be excessively helpful to women who are quite willing to wear thin frocks in white or pastel shades, but whose faces and coloring demand a vivid note somewhere in the gown to lift it into positiveness.

I do not believe the average woman realizes the importance of this new fashion and the artistry that goes into it. Even on a gown of simple coloring and demure modeling there can be a splashing belt of gorgeous Indian embroidery with two ends in front from which dangle rings of green, scarlet or yellow crystals, or Chinese tassels in varicolored silks, strung with beads.

RUFFS FOR EVERYBODY.

"For gowns and gloves and caps and tippets,
Are beauty's sauces, spice and sippets."

So said the poet Hood a long time ago; and if we substitute ruffs, which are the tippets of the moment, we have a modern enough verse. Everybody wears a ruff this summer, and they add much to beauty, indeed.

"Wat kind of ruff you shall wear is a question you must decide for yourself. Tulle is becoming to one, silk to another, and velvet to another, ostrich to still another. There are also the questions of durability and expense to be considered. But these are questions easily settled once one sees the store of ruffs the shops hold.

Those of ostrich are lovely, and are easily more durable than those of tulle. They can be had in almost any price. Although some shops sell no ruffs at less than seven or eight dollars, other reputable shops sell them for half that price and less. And at any price, almost, they are fluffy and pretty.

The ruff of ostrich for this summer is rather short. Usually it fastens almost snugly about the throat. Sometimes it fastens with a button, flat and big and covered with silk, and a loop. Sometimes it fastens under a bow. Sometimes it ends in long tassels which are looped or tied together.

Two shades of colors of ostrich are often combined. White is used with any color—blue or brown or green or black. Tan, too, is combined with colors. Sometimes just the tips of some of the fronds are white, or tan.

Some of the new ruffs are made of taffeta silk, made into points, many of them, and arranged in a full collar about the throat. These are stiff, but very becoming to some persons. They, too, are more durable than tulle.

Tulle, however, is made into so many charming ruffs that it is difficult to resist them even on the score of fragility. Some of them are made of double puffs of the tulle. Some are made of wide, double pleats of tulle. Sometimes the tug has big chenille dots—white on a colored ground.

Soft satin ribbon is shirred into very becoming and graceful ruffs. Like all ruffs of the season, these are not very long. The 1916 ruff either fastens snugly about the throat or hangs with very short ends.

MARKET REPORT

COTTON

New York.

By the Associated Press.

New York, May 23.—Reports that the eastern belt drouth had been broken were followed by heavy general selling in the cotton market here today and prices broke well under the lowest level reached on the reaction of last week. July contracts sold down from 13.29 to 12.83, closing at 12.87.

Trading was only moderately active early but after opening at an advance of one point to a decline of 4 points prices gradually eased off.

Trade interests were moderate buyers on a scale down and there was enough covering to cause slight rallies during the middle of the day, but each bulge seemed to meet increased offerings and the selling became very active late in the afternoon.

Rumors that preliminary returns to one of the private crop reporting bureaus made a bearish showing as to the crop condition, combined with weather news seemed to unsettle the confidence of recent buyers and liquidation was general on the decline. May contracts were relatively quiet and steady, as trading in that delivery will be over at noon tomorrow.

New crop deliveries broke some 23 to 25 points under last night's close.

There was a good deal of covering on a scale down and closing prices were at nearly the low point.

New Orleans.

By the Associated Press.

New Orleans, May 23.—Marked weakness was displayed by the cotton market today under selling for both accounts on improved weather over the belt. During the morning session the market gave way only grudgingly, losing 12 to 15 points from yesterday's close up to noon, but in the afternoon the tone softened and the trading months went to a level 19 to 26 points under last prices. The close was 19 to 25 down.

On the opening the market started to do better as the result of a better Liverpool than due. The near months were put 2 to 7 points over yesterday's final prices, but before the call was over selling pressure developed by weather conditions increased and the late months showed declines on the initial trades.

WHEAT

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, May 23.—Renewal of crop damage reports from the southwest led to something of an upturn today in the price of wheat after an early setback. The market closed steady at $1.09¼ for July and $1.09⅝@1.10 for September, with the range as a whole ⅛c off to ⅝c up compared with yesterday's finish. In corn, the outcome was a gain of ¼@⅜c to ⅝c, and in oats ¼c decline to a like advance. Provisions closed unchanged to 30 cents down.

Misgivings in regard to the Kansas crop had a good deal to do with turning sentiment to the bull side of the wheat market. Advices were also at hand telling of serious destruction by Hessian fly in Missouri and Illinois.

Corn rallied with wheat. The market was bullishly influenced too by the scantiness of receipts and by Illinois reports that much replanting had been found necessary.

Oats prices averaged lower as a result of favorable crop reports.

Declines in the value of hogs and of cotton seed oil weakened provisions.

Afternoon Frocks of Georgette Crepe Lavishly Trimmed With Ribbon Have Been Adopted as a Substitute for Chiffon Frocks.

New York, May 23.—The mills have succeeded beyond their expectations in the perfecting of the fabric known as Georgette crepe. It is now inclusively, instead of exclusively, accepted. The public has been wary of any thin fabric under the name of crepe because of its recent experience with weaves that lend themselves to that name. There were seasons in which these fabrics, highly priced, were readily bought up, but after having been weighed and found wanting, not in the balance, but in the laundry, women turned from them with irritation.

The shops admitted that they were heavy losers through the failure of these weaves, because so many garments were returned by good customers and afterward considered as wastage. Their buyers thereafter accepted these new weaves gingerly and without enthusiasm.

Georgette crepe, even with all its loveliness of texture and service, fell under suspicion. It came out two seasons ago for blouses, at a time when the transparent waist that gave the appearance of merely a film of cloth drawn over the body was at the height of fashion. Chiffon cloth and net were the materials chosen to carry out this idea of a wisp of a blouse, but Georgette crepe offered more durability, and when it was found that its serviceability measured up to its loveliness, it was eagerly received by the women who were always looking for new things.

REACHED UP-
WARD TO FROCKS.

After the fabric gave two seasons of service in the way of blouses it reached upward as a rival to chiffon for afternoon frocks. Several admirable gowns have been recently worn that prove that this weave of crepe had a right to remain among the smart fabrics.

There is still an immense amount of chiffon—or chiffon cloth as it really is—used for morning and afternoon frocks, but women feel that Georgette crepe presents a newer net. Now and then it is combined with crepe de chine, which has been revived to meet the demand for excessively thin materials that will lend themselves to the pleats and furbelows and ruffles of the hour.

Again, there are gowns in which the combination of Georgette crepe and satin is used, but several smartly dressed women are discarding the other materials and making a whole frock of crepe. The sketch shows such a gown which was made for an afternoon wedding.

The extra-short skirt is a succession of bands, and these are methodically touched up at the side with large rosettes of ribbon. The bodice is mounted over flesh colored satin and the lower part of it is entirely of silver lace. The crepe itself is formed like a small Zouave jacket and the armholes of this extended a little over the long, small sleeves of crepe which flare over the hand to the knuckles and are slashed at each side and lined with silver lace at the edges. The belt has its rosette of ribbon and two long, ornamental ends that hang over the skirt.

It is in Pale Champagne With Rosettes of Self-Colored Ribbon. The Bodice is Over Flesh-Colored Satin and Trimmed with Silver Lace.

BRILLIANCY IN GIRDLES.

The manner in which the clever dressmakers are introducing brilliancy through girdles is significant. The idea should be excessively helpful to women who are quite willing to wear thin frocks in white or pastel shades, but whose faces and coloring demand a vivid note somewhere in the gown to lift it into positiveness.

I do not believe the average woman realizes the importance of this new fashion and the artistry that goes into it. Even on a gown of simple coloring and demure modeling there can be a splashing belt of gorgeous Indian embroidery with two ends in front from which dangle rings of green, scarlet or yellow crystals, or Chinese tassels in varicolored silks, strung with beads.

RUFFS FOR EVERYBODY.

"For gowns and gloves and caps and tippets,
Are beauty's sauces, spice and sippets,"

So said the poet Hood a long time ago; and if we substitute ruffs, which are the tippets of the moment, we have a modern enough verse. Everybody wears a ruff this summer, and they add much to beauty, indeed.

What kind of ruff you shall wear is a question you must decide for yourself. Tulle is becoming to one, silk to another, and velvet to another, ostrich to still another. There are also the questions of durability and expense to be considered. But these are questions easily settled once one sees the store of ruffs the shops hold.

Those of ostrich are lovely, and are easily more durable than those of tulle. They can be had in almost any price. Although some shops sell no ruffs at less than seven or eight dollars, other reputable shops sell them for half that price and less. And all are very pretty, almost, they are fluffy and pretty.

The ruff of ostrich for this summer is rather short. Usually it fastens almost snugly about the throat. Sometimes it fastens with a button, flat and big and covered with silk, and a loop. Sometimes it fastens under a bow. Sometimes it ends in long tassels which are looped or tied together.

Two shades of colors of ostrich are often combined. White is used with any color—blue or brown or green or black. Tan, too, is combined with colors. Sometimes just the tips of some of the fronds are white, or tan.

Some of the new ruffs are made of taffeta silk, made into points, many of them, and arranged in a full collar about the throat. These are stiff, but very becoming to some persons. They, too, are more durable than tulle.

Tulle, however, is made into so many charming ruffs that it is difficult to resist them even on the score of fragility. Some of them are made of double puffs of the tulle. Some are made of wide, double pleats of tulle. Sometimes the tug has big chenille dots—white on a colored ground.

Soft satin ribbon is shirred into very becoming and graceful ruffs. Like all ruffs for the season, these are not very long. The 1916 ruff either fastens snugly about the throat or hangs with very short ends.

MARKET REPORT

COTTON

New York.

By the Associated Press.

New York, May 23.—Reports that the eastern belt drouth had been broken were followed by heavy general selling in the cotton market here today and prices broke well under the lowest level reached on the reaction of last week. July contracts sold down from 13.29 to 12.83, closing at 12.87.

Trading was only moderately active early but after opening at an advance of one point to a decline of 4 points prices gradually eased off.

Trade interests were moderate buyers on a scale down and there was enough covering to cause slight rallies during the middle of the day, but each bulge seemed to meet increased offerings and the selling became very active late in the afternoon.

Rumors that preliminary returns to one of the private crop reporting bureaus made a bearish showing as to the crop condition, combined with weather news seemed to unsettle the confidence of recent buyers and liquidation was general on the decline. May contracts were relatively quiet and steady, as trading in that delivery will be over at noon tomorrow.

There was a good deal of covering on a scale down and closing prices were at nearly the low point.

New Orleans.

By the Associated Press.

New Orleans, May 23.—Marked weakness was displayed by the cotton market today under selling for both accounts on improved weather over the belt. During the morning session the market gave way only grudgingly, losing 12 to 15 points from yesterday's close up to noon, but in the afternoon the tone softened and the trading months went to a level 19 to 26 points under last prices. The close was 19 to 25 down.

When opening the market started to do better as the result of a better Liverpool than due. The near months were put 2 to 7 points over yesterday's final prices, but before the call was over selling pressure developed by weather conditions increased and the late months showed declines on the initial trades.

WHEAT

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, May 23.—Renewal of crop damage reports from the southwest led to something of an upturn today in the price of wheat after an early setback. The market closed steady at $1.09⅛ for July and $1.09¾@1.10 for September, with the range as a whole ⅛c off to ⅝c up compared with yesterday's finish. In corn, the outcome was a gain of ¼@⅜ to ½c, and in oats ⅛c decline to a like advance. Provisions closed unchanged to 30 cents down.

Misgivings in regard to the Kansas crop had a good deal to do with turning sentiment to the bull side of the wheat market. Advices were also at hand telling of serious destruction by Hessian fly in Missouri and Illinois.

Corn rallied with wheat. The market was bullishly influenced too by the scantiness of receipts and by Illinois reports that much replanting had been found necessary.

Declines in the value of hogs and of cotton seed oil weakened provisions.

PREPERATIONS MADE TO ENTERTAIN FLOOD COMMITTEE IN WACO

Sub-committees were appointed and some of the final arrangements for the entertainment of the congressional committee on flood prevention who will arrive there Friday night, were made when the general committee composed of representatives of the Rotary club, Chamber of Commerce and Young Men's Business League met in the officers of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon.

The parade which will begin to form at 8 o'clock, preparatory to escorting the committee to the Raleigh hotel where they will be entertained with a banquet, and stunts, will be under the management of the parade committee which consists of the following members of the general committee: W. V. Crawford, chairman; C. P. Link and J. W. Carlin.

"We ought to have at least 15,000 people in this parade," declared Chairman W. V. Crawford. He stated that those who would be in the parade were requested to be ready for formation at the station at 8 o'clock sharp from whence they would march north on Fourth to Austin, thence west up Austin to the Raleigh hotel.

Arrangements will likely be made with the Boy Scouts to sell flags to those who fail to bring one with them, as all who enter the parade will be expected to carry an American flag.

The banquet committee, the members of which are H. M. Baine, J. J. Powers and W. V. Crawford, will arrange for the disposition of the tickets, and as part of this endeavor the following teams have been appointed to sell tickets: No. 1, J. M. Penland and S. Hirshberg; No. 2, W. W. Naman and J. J. Powers; No. 3, Dr. I. L. McGlasson and Frank Crow; No. 4, E. F. Drake and L. E. Bain; No. 5, J. J. Hutchison and J. W. Carlin; No. 6, Perry A. Duncan and L. C. Puckett; No. 7, H. M. Baine and W. V. Crawford.

The committee in charge of raising by subscription the money to pay for the special train that will bear the visitors, reported that the sum necessary had been raised successfully.

The congressional committee will leave the city Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

LETTERS DECRYING MOBBING FLOOD IN

Letters from all parts of the United States have come to various parties in Waco in the past week, some of them addressed to the district, others to the county and some to the city authorities, regarding the occurrence here on May 15.

Most of the letters are couched in withering terms of criticism, and the terms employed in a part of them are of a character to show that this city has been placed in a most unenviable light before the world. It is also evident that the size of the crowd which witnessed the incident in Waco has been grossly misrepresented and made to appear many times as large as it really was.

One or two special writers for publication in the east have appeared in Waco seeking information relative to the tragedy, and also seeking pictures which were made at the time; gruesome incidents connected with the affair are being sought out, and the publicity of undesirable character appears to be just getting under good headway, insofar as some of the outside points are concerned.

Weights and Measure Ordinance Will Be Considered Today

An ordinance which is considered to be of much importance is to come up at the meeting of the city commission tomorrow. This is the weights and measures ordinance, which has been under consideration for some time.

Mayor John Dollins thinks that this will prove a great protection to the public, and after the ordinance shall have been passed the weights and measures inspector will make regular trips around the city, examine scales in the stores, feed stores, coal houses and in fact all places, and if anything is found to be wrong, immediate steps will be taken to have same corrected, and in aggravated cases the scales may even be confiscated.

It is claimed that the ordinance will have a wider application and that under its operations the people will come much nearer getting what they buy than is the case in some instances under the present arrangement.

J. B. Strother, weights and measures inspector, has recently been to Dallas and secured valuable data there which is expected to be of practical value when the new ordinance shall have been passed and made effective.

Katy Welfare League Will Have Big Picnic at Walnut Springs

A great big picnic and day's outing will be held by the Katy Welfare league on June 27, and at this time a train will take the league members and their families to Walnut Springs on the Texas Central, about sixty-five miles above Waco, and there the picnic will be held in the beautiful grove which has become so famous throughout this whole section.

The park at Walnut Springs has been donated free of charge for the occasion, and the railroad men here will see that a big crowd goes up at the time mentioned, and it is expected that the day will be one of much pleasure to all concerned.

All arrangements for the day will be made in plenty of time to insure that nothing will be overlooked.
